Moving on

Packing . . . Old Friends
 Unpacking . . . New Friends
 After a long awaited time, we moved to the new Potomac building. Also, we moved on to the next phase of life—growing up, getting older, and going on to bigger and better things. Some looked forward to this, while others were apprehensive. No matter how we looked at it, we were MOVING ON!

Studying . . . Homework . . . Tests . . . Reports . . . Classes . . . These were all part of a student's academic life, and seemed to take up most of his time. Academic life was a big part of school life, no matter how one looked at it. Some were of the opinion that academics were of more value than sports, while others placed more value on sports and other activities. Many courses were offered at Potomac, languages . . . sciences . . . maths . . . the arts . . . just to name a few. Students chose from these courses to piece together their schedule. What courses students took, and how well they did in them, may not appear important now, but when it comes time to fill out job and college applications, they become extremely important.

Boring and Lifeless

Students didn't just go to school every day, life would be too boring if we did. So that's why we created after school activities; activities that will keep America on her toes, like cheerleading, football, marching band, and so forth.

A lot of people took part in school sports. Football was one example. Every day those players practiced long tiring hours. This showed because we won many games this year. We can say Thank You to those players for making Potomac #1. At these games we had something else to make them more exciting and enjoyable, our cheerleaders and marching band. The cheerleaders gave us a cheery mood at every game.

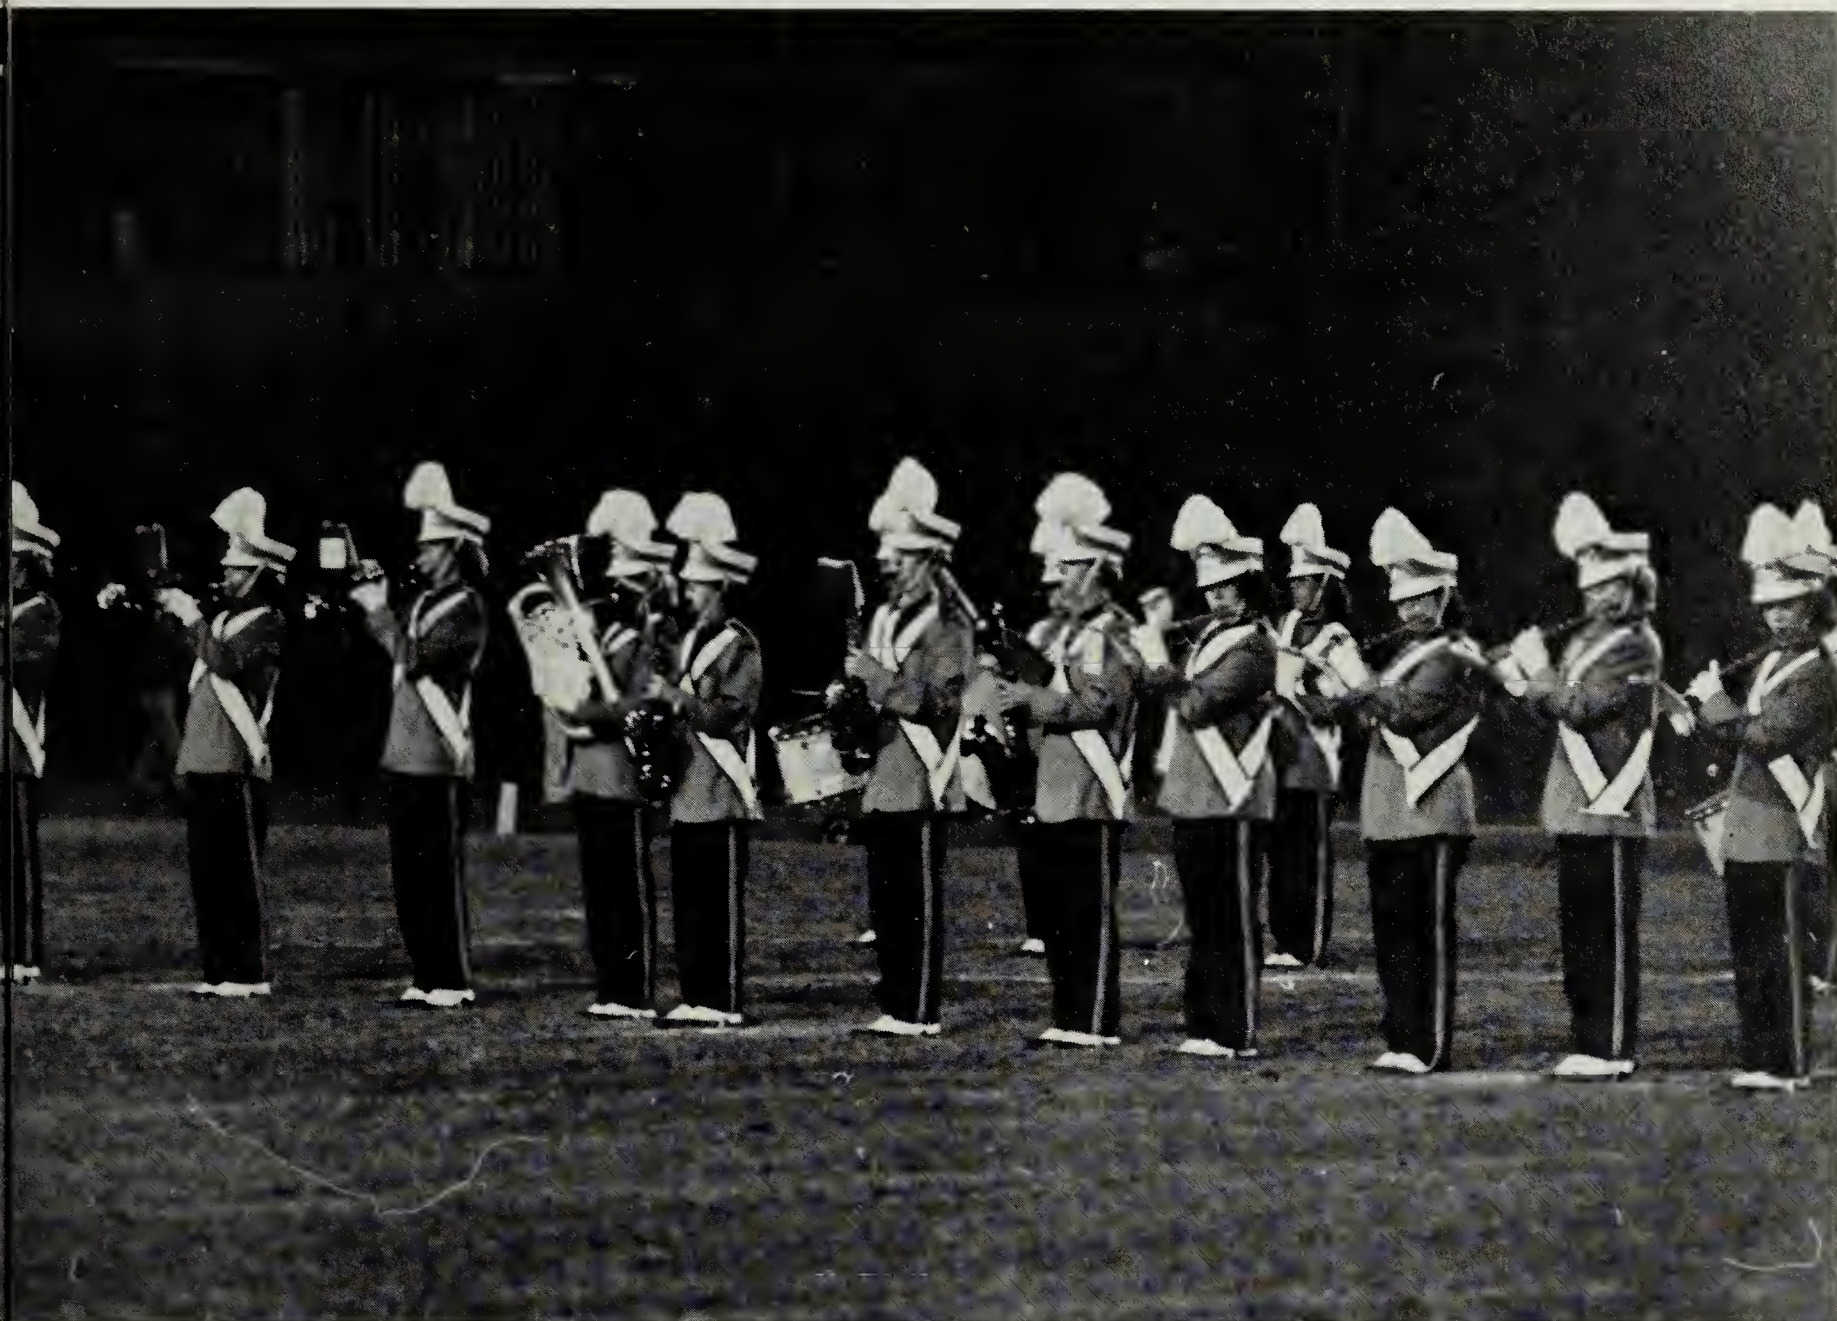

These girls worked many hours after school learning new cheers and stunts. The marching band also was a big part of our football games. They too worked long hours marching, just to make our games more exciting.

Student activity was a very important part of Potomac. Without it, this school would be dull and lifeless. With more clubs, sports, and other activities, we definitely knew that Potomac was Moving On.

The feeling . . .

This feeling was unanimous throughout the school. Because of a combination of hard work, good coaching, and a lot of spirit, we have earned the #1 rating, and shown other teams who's the best. Potomac offered a wide variety of sports, from football to volleyball to track. There was large attendance at our athletic events as students and teachers cheered for the Panthers. Pep rallies were held to boost school spirit, and buttons and ribbons were sold. Through these activities and with a lot of enthusiasm, we will continue to be #1.

On the Move

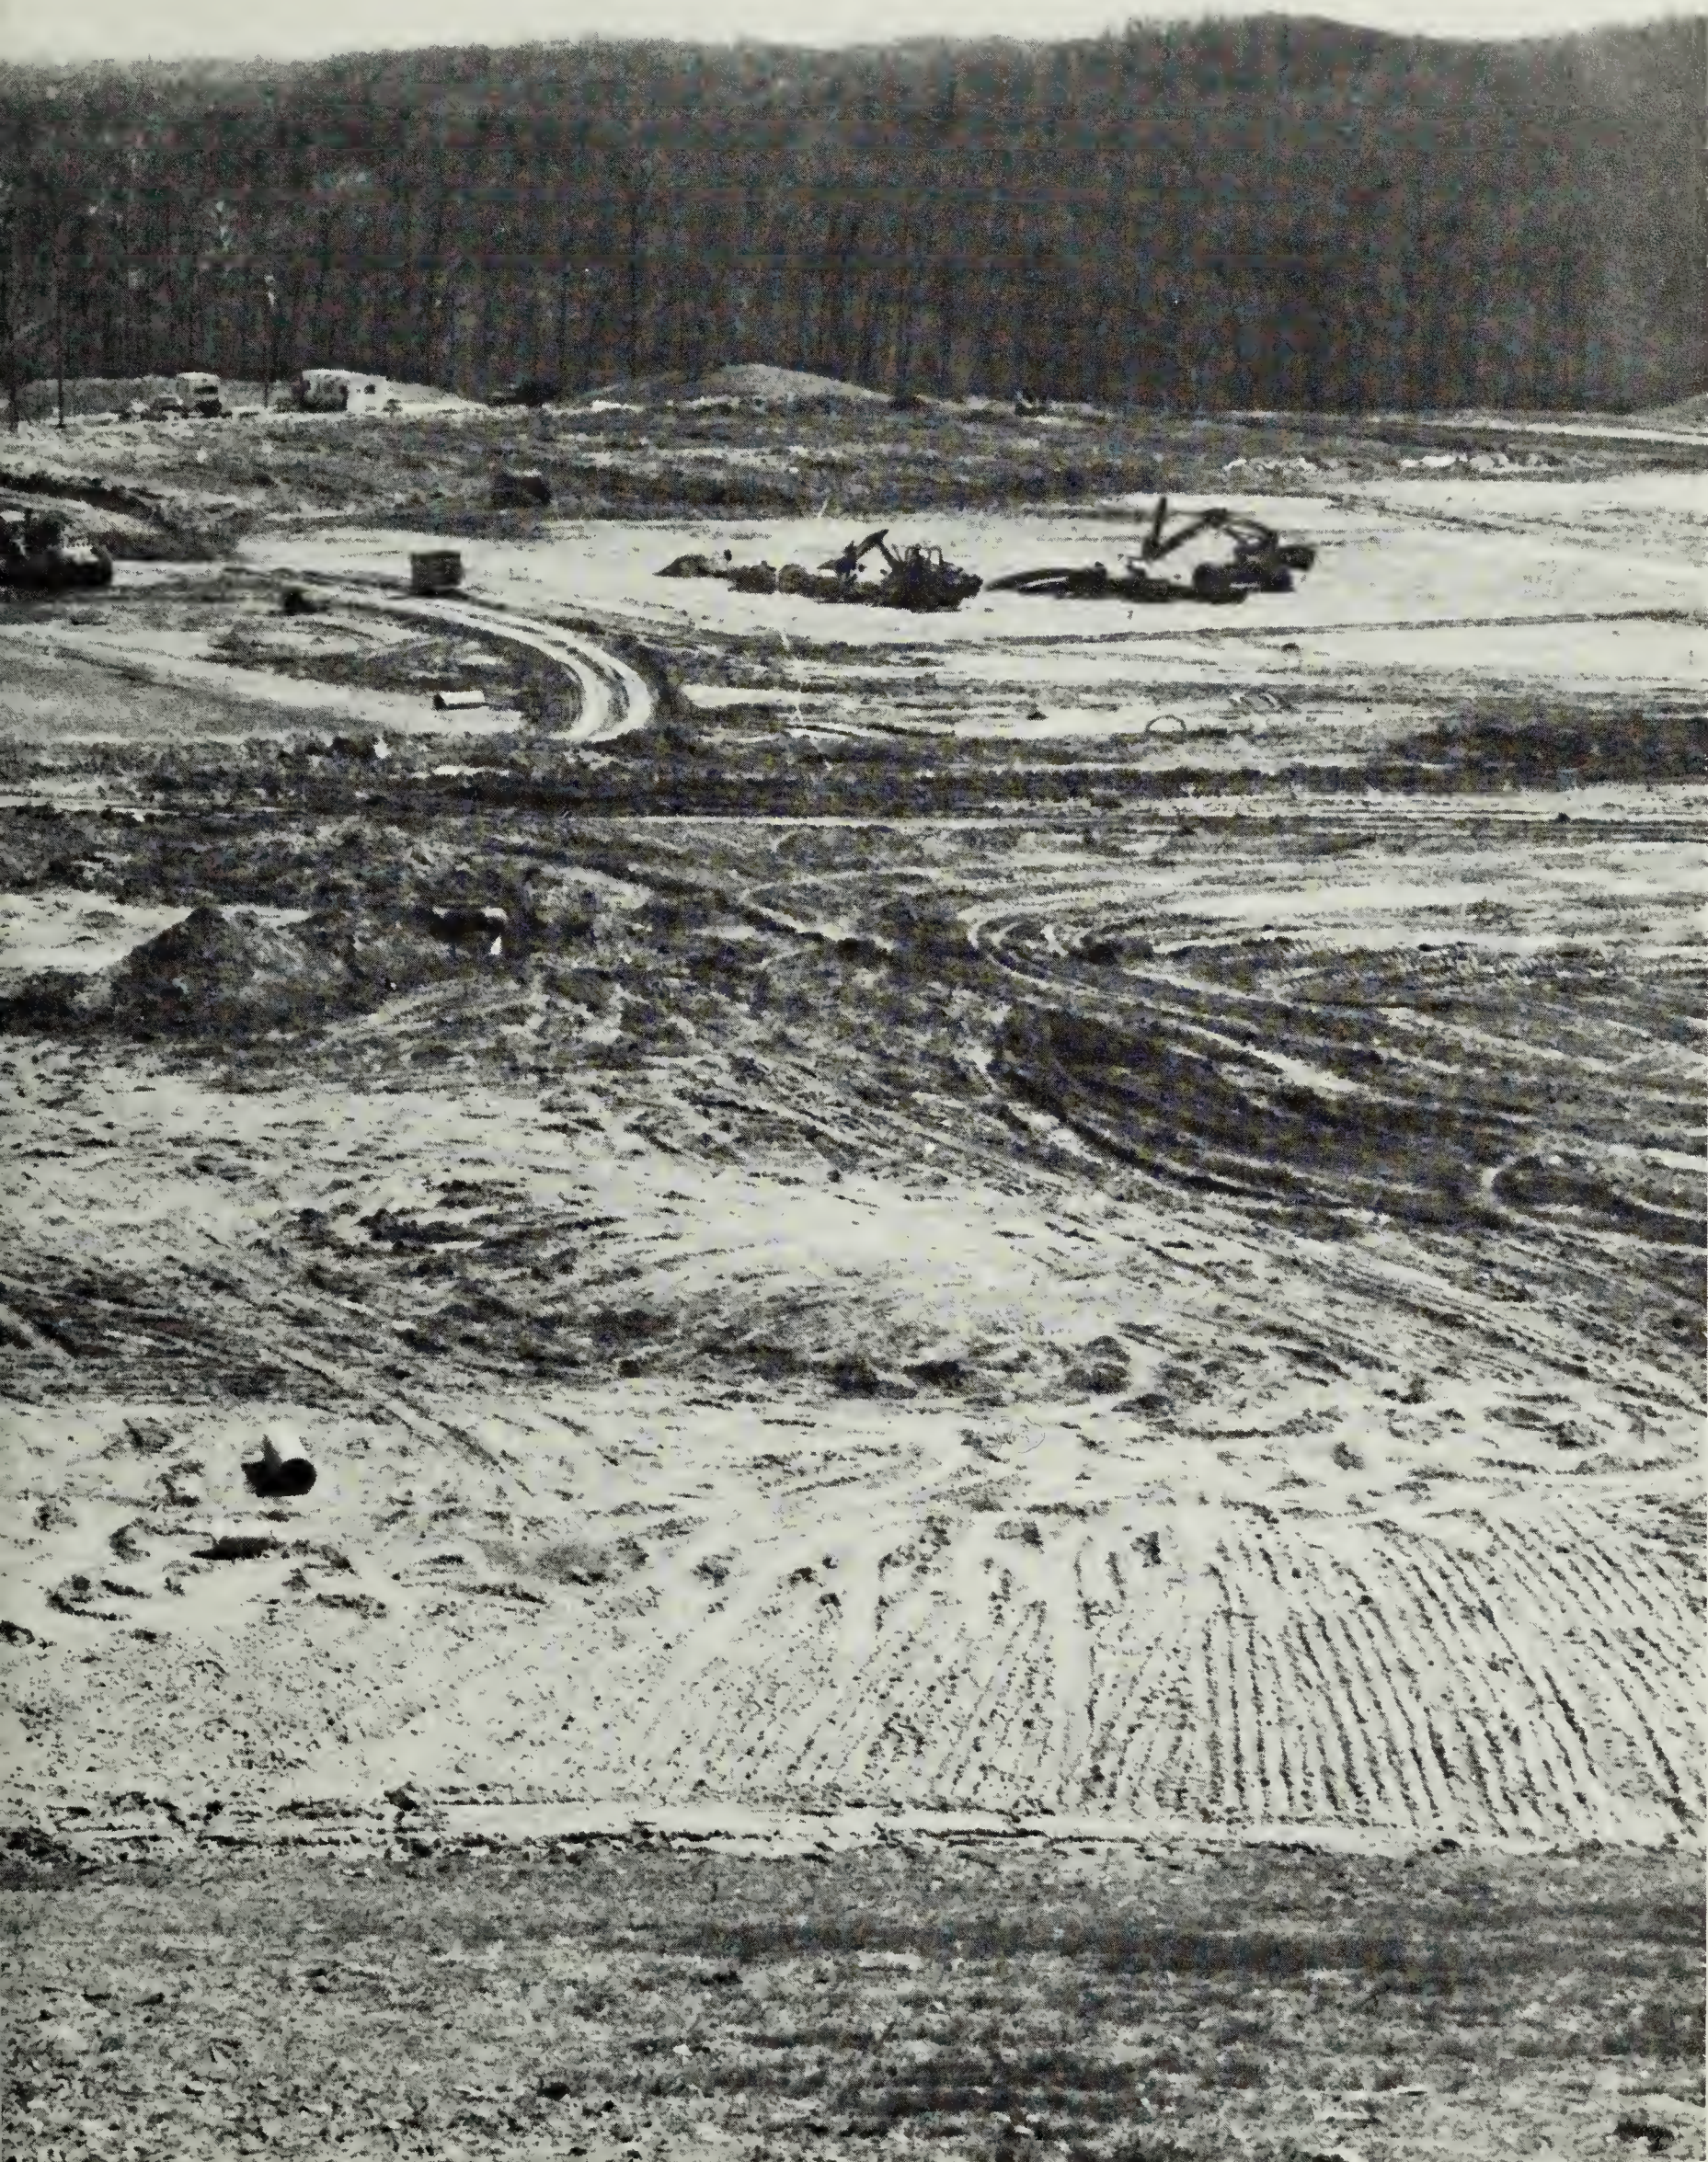

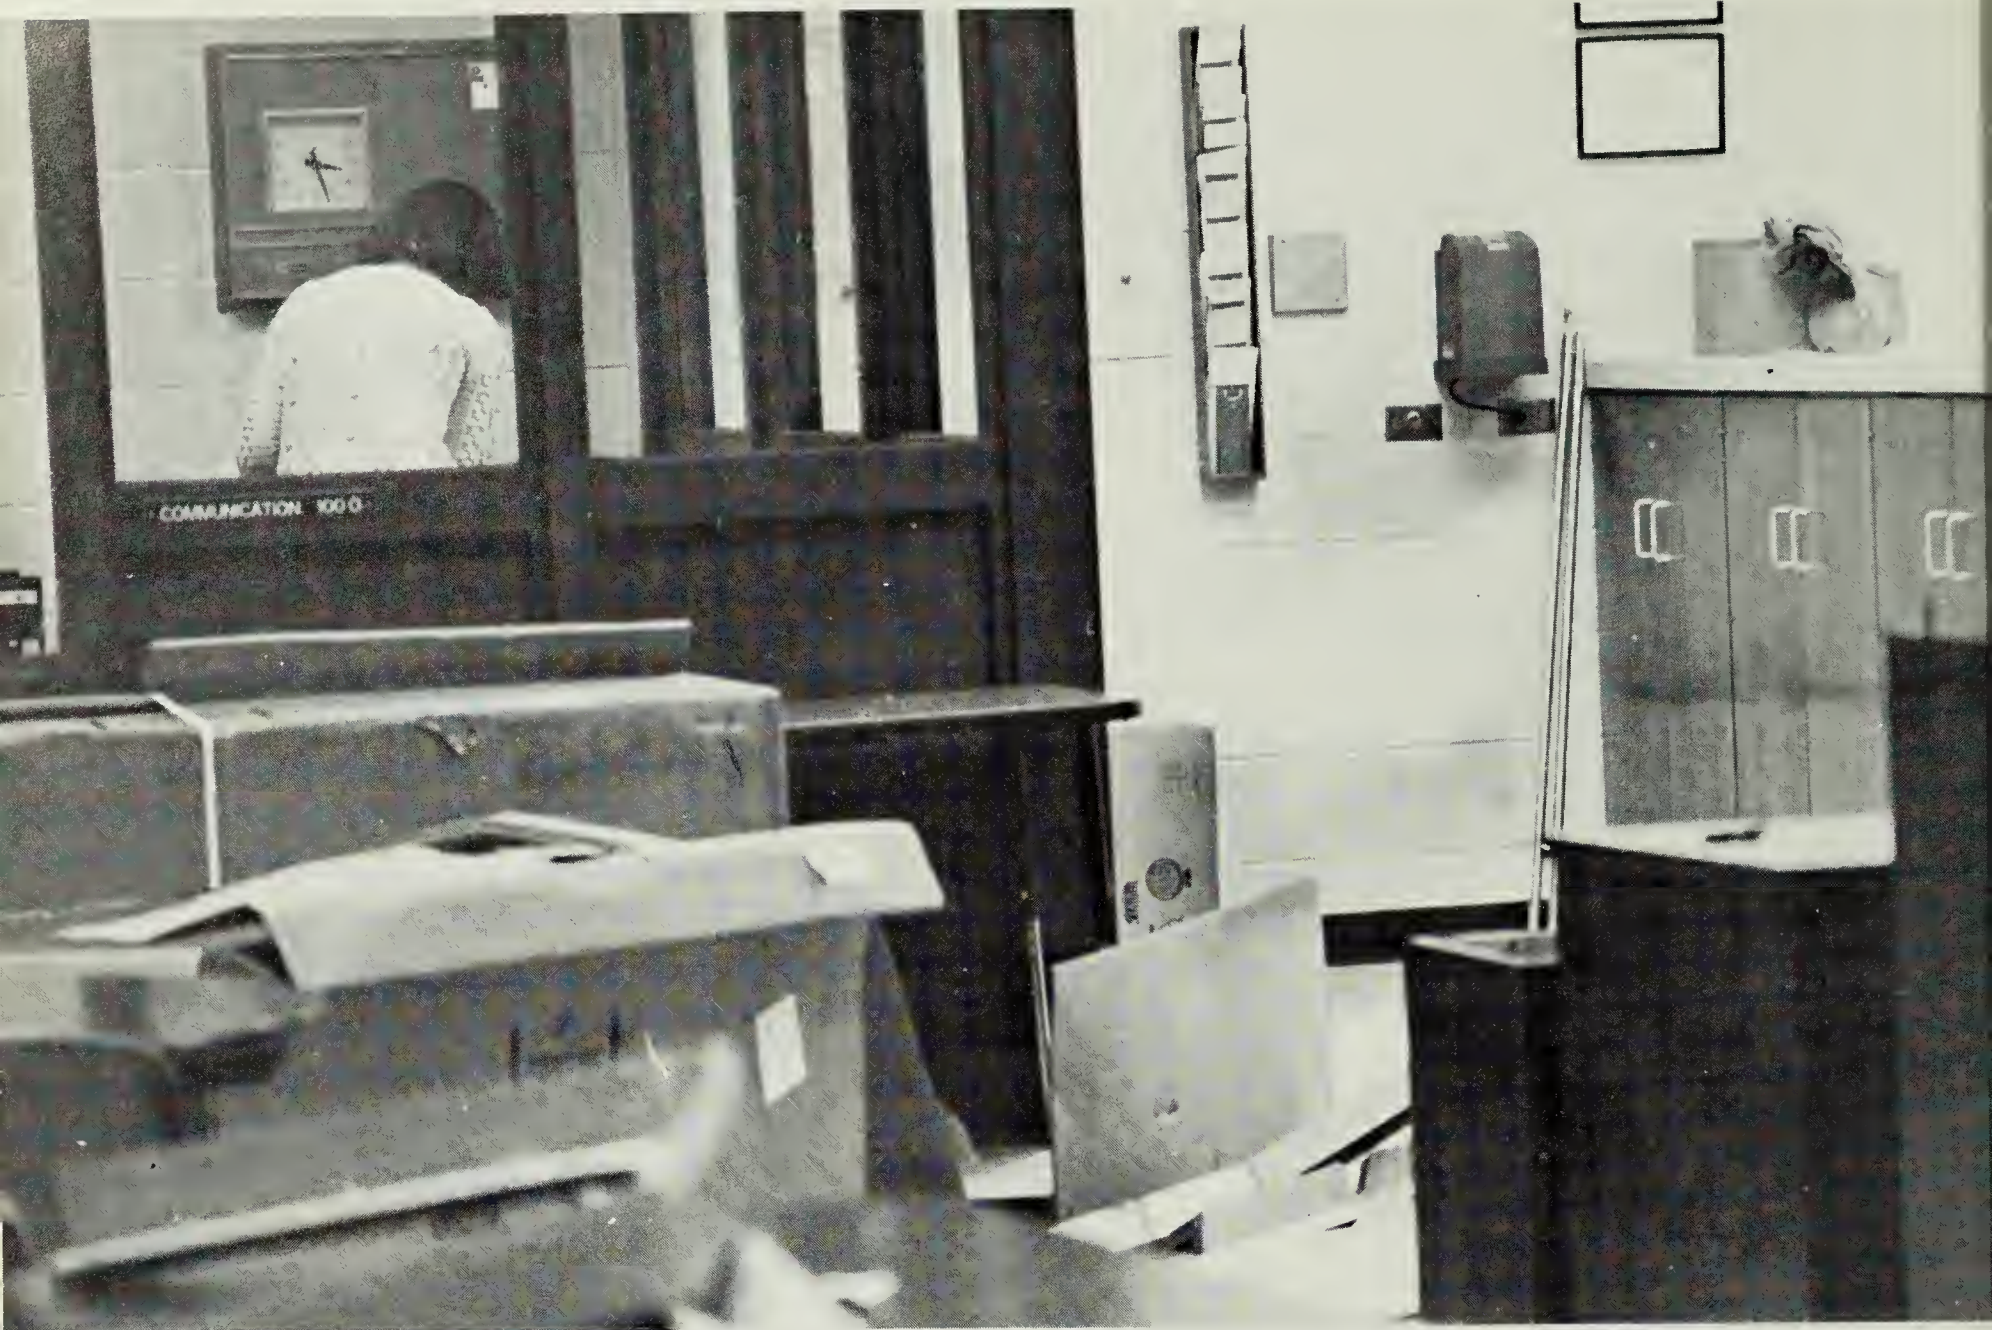

Moving On . . .

Winter, 1978

Moving day. For many of us it was a day we had waited for for almost two years. For others, it meant an extra two days of Christmas vacation. Whatever the reason, the air on December 19, 1980, was charged with excitement.

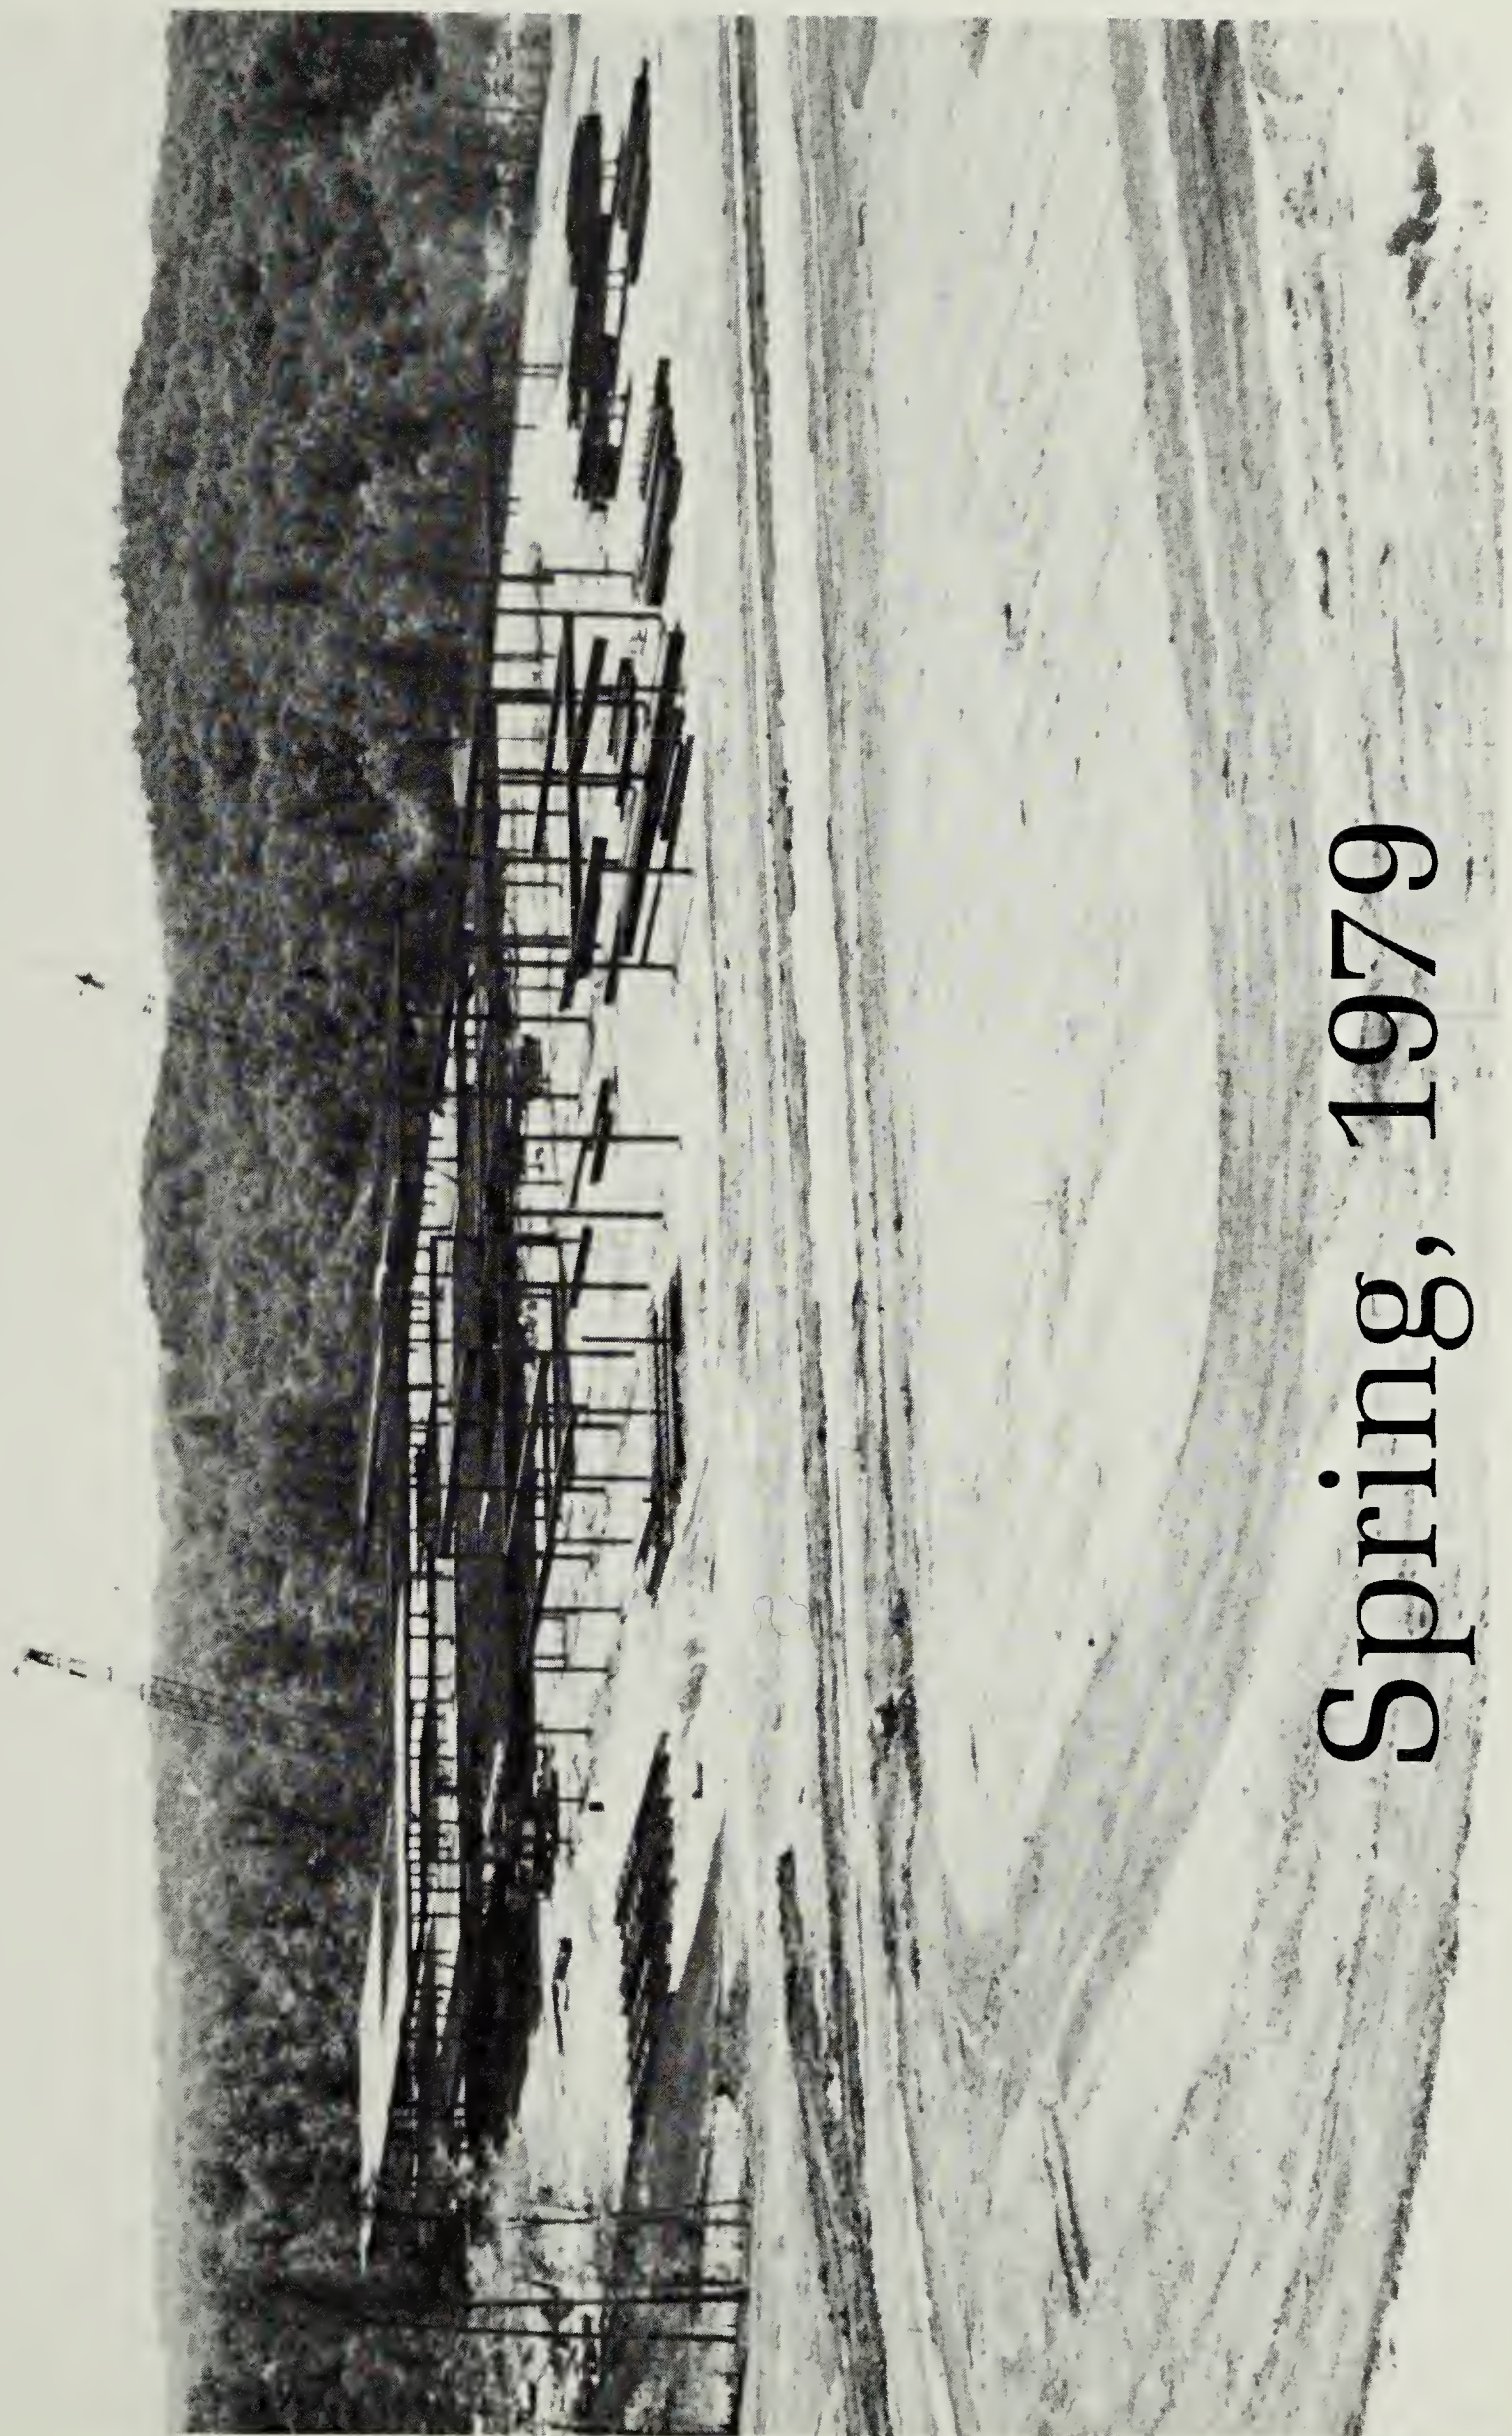

Several people had started moving weeks ahead of this date. Unopened equipment, extra chairs, desks, and supplies were moved at the end of November. The Library closed down to pack on December 8 and moved on the 10th. Talk of extra boxes, advance move lists, and truck schedules was heard everywhere. Department chairmen made inventory lists, packing schedules, and moving lists. Mr. Mallard moved his office to the new building in early November so that he was here to receive the shipments of materials arriving daily. On December 16th, the Potomac students got their first look at their new home. All third period classes were brought over by bus for a tour with their teacher. Two days later, the students returned with all their possessions from their lockers. Problems arose immediately with the new lockers. Most would not open because the lock had never been used, or the student was not strong enough to pull it up. Some had been given wrong combinations, others just had too much stuff. Cries of help to Mr. Gardziel were heard often. That afternoon the students ran through their schedules.

Friday, the 19th, was a short day for students. After cleaning up the Saunders Building and attending the Christmas assembly, students were released. Trucks from the county school system backed up and started loading desks, chairs, and all our possessions. Over the next three days, all of PSHS was delivered to its new home. While others returned to school after Christmas, most Potomac students stayed home. Some Key Club members came in and helped with the massive job of unpacking. In one day teachers found their materials, and were ready to teach on January 6th.

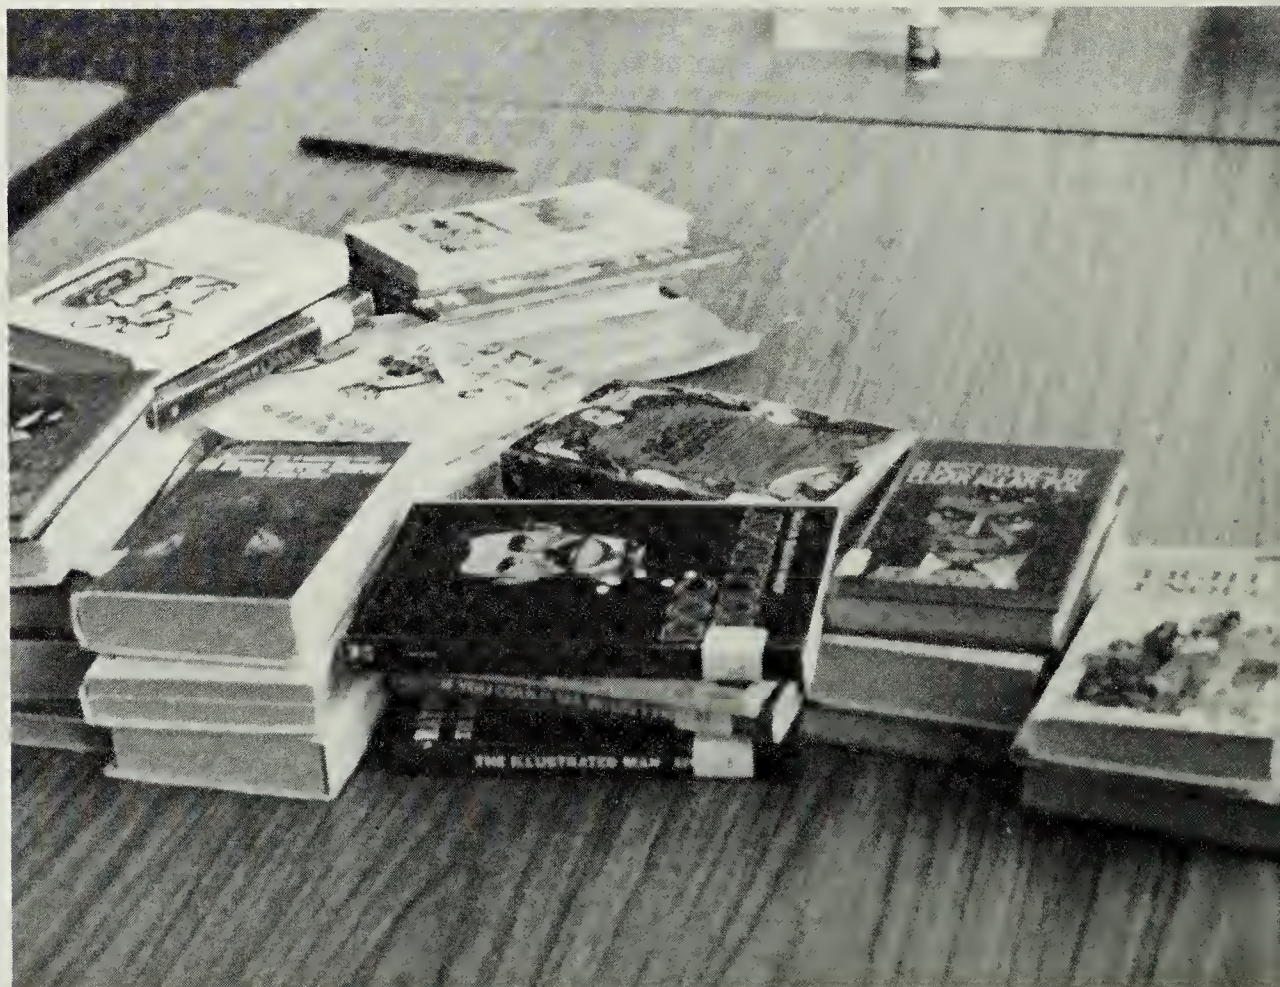

Spring, 1979

Work progressed through the summer on the locker rooms.

Even though it was time to move, new books were being processed in the library.

Activities

Moving On . . .

Carnation Day

On February 3rd and 4th, the Sophomore Class sold carnations to raise money. The carnations cost a dollar apiece. They were distributed to the homerooms on February 13th. The carnations were red (for lovers), pink (for admirers) and white (for friends). A few problems arose with finding homerooms but the carnations were eventually given out. The carnations added a special event to Valentine's Day at Potomac.

Faculty Basketball

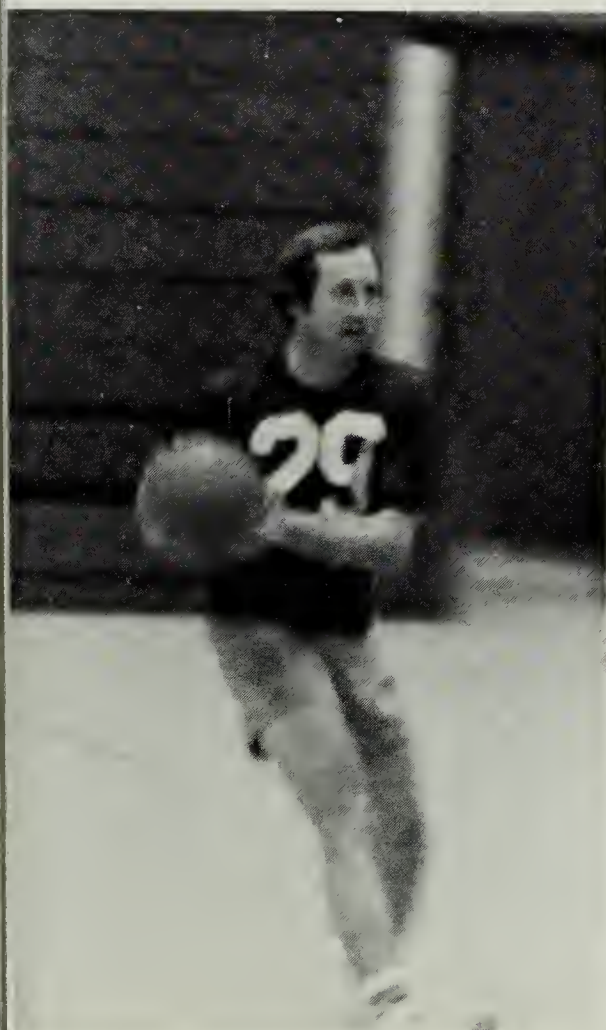

One new event that occurred this year was the Faculty Basketball game with Potomac's male teachers competing against Woodbridge's male teachers.

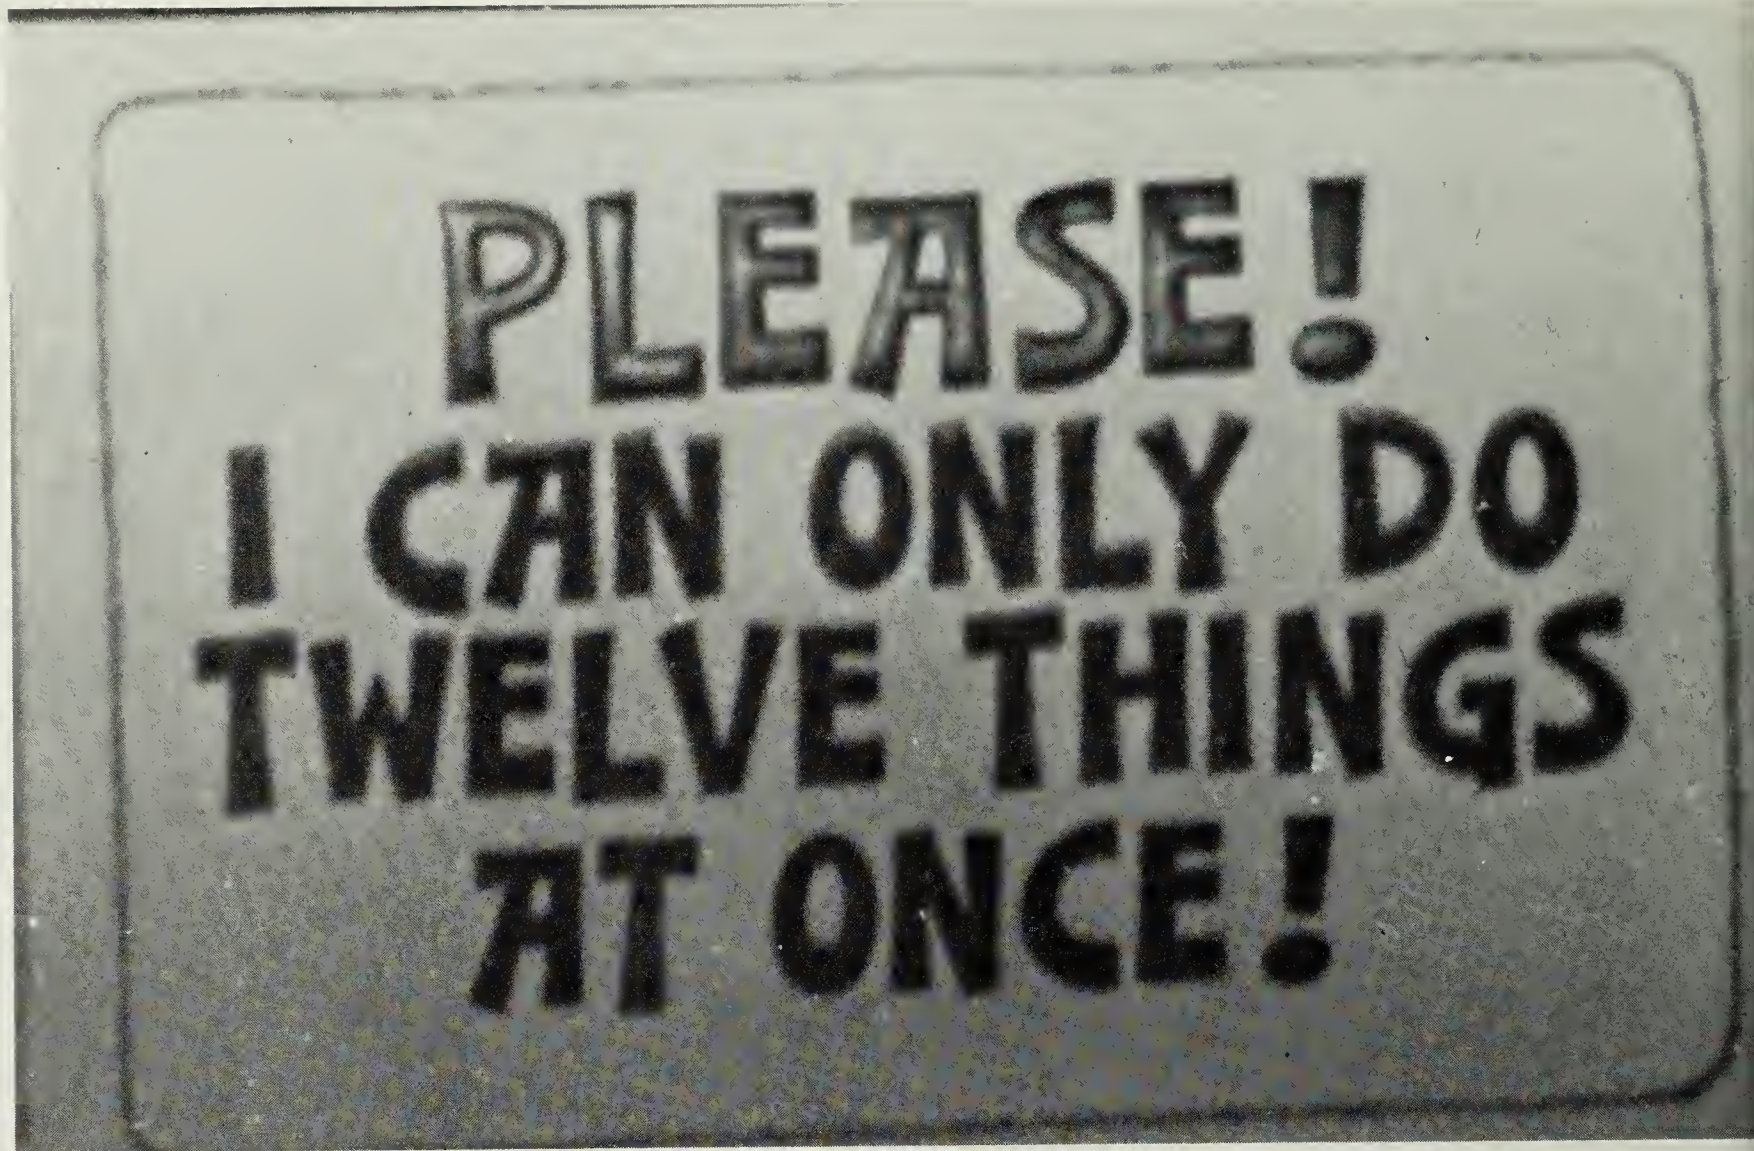

Although Potomac didn't win, they gave Woodbridge a good run for their money! For the huge crowd of approximately ten people, they gave a good show. Everyone who attended had a good time.

Snow Day!!

SCA Officers

The members of the SCA worked hard this year, putting on dances, helping with the move and other related activities. In addition, the SCA sponsored the school store, which was open each morning before school. President Jon Copley worked extra hard to involve students and create school spirit. As the "Panther", he spread spirit at many ball games.

One of the highlights of the year was the ribbon cutting ceremony held January 6, when the first bus unloaded at the new PSHS. The SCA also sponsored the selection of a street name for our road.

Dances

We had dances all year long, on special occasions, after games, and some for no reason at all. The music was provided for most of the dances by Disco Connection or Moonlight Disco. Many people came to all of the dances, and even though the time flew, everyone seemed to have a good time. There were always people to rap with, new dances to learn, and crazy things to do.

The dances were sponsored by such groups as the Foreign Language Club, SCA, and DECA. They were held in the Student Commons from 8-11.

The Valentines Day dance was the most exciting since that night the new king and queen for Potomac were crowned. The nominees for queen were: Cheri Mandrgoc, Allison Stewart, Josee Dionne, Sherri Turner, and Dawn Wells. Nominated for king were: Ray Jackson, Richard Roeske, Jonathan Tabourn, Pete Theriault, and Clyde Turner. The Valentines Sweethearts for this year were Josee Dionne and Janathan Tabourn.

Highlighting the Foreign Language Festival this year, were skits, songs, food and clothing from various nations. As part of its activities, the Foreign Language Club helped organize the French, Spanish and German class productions.

Parents and faculty members enjoyed sampling all the different desserts made by the students. Souvenirs from various nations were also on display. For the more than 200 people attending, it was an enjoyable evening.

Battle of the Sexes

Resolved: That Men and Women are Both Equal Genetically, Spiritually, and Morally in the Eyes of Creation and Human Kind.

As members of the affirmative side, we, the women, found the debate enjoyable as well as challenging. With only one minute to state our position and two minutes to defend it, time became a major factor. The debate was fought with determination while trying to use the long hours of research wisely. Although tensions and pressure were in the air, we all are looking forward to future debates.

The negative side, the men, had the burden of proof, which is a deterrent in any debate; that is, when you have the burden of proof and argue with women, there is no chance of winning. We randomly interviewed people who observed the debate, their comments strongly suggest the males dominated the event from the beginning. This information is evidence that the delinquent females bribed the judges.

Members of both teams wish to express their appreciation to Mr. Cummins for making the first debate at Potomac Senior High School a rewarding experience. Third Period Debate:

Women: Josee Dionne, Cheri Mandrgoc, Beth Beyer, Ginny Reid

Men: Glyn Owen, Jim Degnan, Mike Lyman, David Waldman

Go Get 'em Panthers!

According to most sources, a Pep Rally is a gathering of students used to inflame school spirit. Here at PSHS the spirit was not easy to ignite. Pep rallies were held during each sports season to introduce the teams and coaches to the fans, and help build interest in the games. Even though we had successful seasons, the support was not always evident at the rallies.

Mixing talent and hard work, Mr. Dill directed the symphonic band.

The band played superbly in several concerts this year. Many of the members were in the Regional and All-County bands, and one member was in the Senior All-County Orchestra. Many of the band members played in the Solo and Ensemble Festival. Playing extremely well, the band received a Superior rating at the Band Festival. They were the only band at their level to get a superior rating.

Marching Band

During half-time shows at most of the football games, the Marching Band did a show, with the help of the flags, majorettes, and rifles.

The 26 members started practicing at the end of the summer, learning how to keep in step. By the end of the football season, they were doing many, many more things.

After football season, the band continued to march because parade season was still to come. In December, they marched in the Manassas Christmas Parade.

Majorettes and Rifles

Rifles: Chris Pegler, Amy Mountjoy, Lila Thompson, Alicia Toney.

Majorettes: Frances Curran, Jamie Lane, Rhonda Tipton

Flag Corps

Susan Cooper, Leann Collins, Mary Simmons, Donna Saunders, Cathy Sweatman, Sherri Barron, Kim Morrison, Jamie Young.

Three very gifted groups of girls participated at football games and in parades. Everyone enjoyed watching them.

One of the majorettes, Jamie Lane twirled with fire. She was remarkable. How could anyone be that courageous?

Rifles, majorettes and flags went to camp over the summer and came back with a lot more experience than they had before.

Although there weren't many people in these groups, they were good. We hope we'll get the same quality and sportsmanship in the future.

Orchestra

Members: Ricky Potvin, Jon Copley, Andy Buckon, Bobby Kraus, Mike Kvenberg, Mrs. Ilchyshyn, Amy Richardson, Diana Jones, Lynn Maruschak, Amy Mountjoy, Krista Bergeria, Allyson Spence, Pat Bardon, Jamie Young, Susan Bahorich, Nina Crouch, Laura Gaulke, Kirsten Brown, Jennifer Hayes, Shelley Seitz.

One of the first orchestra was with Rippon and Graham Park, held in the fall. They also had a Christmas concert with the Quantico High School orchestra. "Sleigh Bells", was played, along with other pieces.

The Orchestra hosted the Regional Orchestra Festival on March 20 and 21. After that, almost everyone played in the Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Mixed Chorus

This year at Potomac we had two vocal groups, girls chorus and mixed chorus. Mixed chorus was the larger of the two groups with 43 members.

Although they did not have many performances, the concerts they did have were excellent. They sang popular songs as well as old favorites.

A few members went to All-County Chorus, and did well.

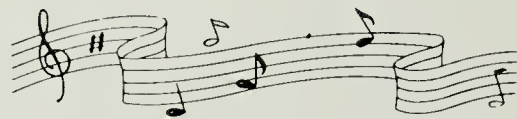

Members: Susan Cozart, Traci Simpson, Krista Vernarelli, Liz Thoreson, Nina Crouch, Joyce Cornwell, Lisa Rubel, Stephanie Macalino. Yuri Lazar, Sherri Burdette, Karen Francis, Linda Bates, Kris Doyle, Jamie Lane,

Patti Lawlor, Shannon Wagner, Sheila Neary, Elise Painter, Sharon Harris, Angela Prudot, Gloria Ferran, Lisa Margheim, Becky Coffenberry, Magda Mohle, Beth O'Quinn, Katie Flynn. Eddie Marbaker, James Stepnowski, Wil-

Girls Chorus

A very talented group, Girls Chorus, gave us a lot of good music. Everyone who heard them realized that. Although there were no male counterparts, there were many talented females.

They didn't participate in many concerts this year. One of their best was the Christmas concert, where they sang several well known selections.

Members: Terri Gilliam, Debbie Applegate, Cristi Castleberry, Hazel Sykes, Kim Sisk. Becky Butcher, Barbara Jones, Terry Abel, Fledia Santmeyer, Jill Holley, Parsha Davis, Danielle Thurber, Leslie Ling, Rita Alston, Dawn Overby, Jodilee Ploufe, Crystal Kearns, Karen Blake, Lisa Bryant, Jacinda Griffin, Tuawana Marble, Charlyn Staggs.

Spring Sports, 1980

Our first year of spring sports was a success. The members of the baseball, soccer, softball, and track teams worked together to make Potomac successful. Considering it was their first year, the soccer team gained lots of experience playing all varsity teams. Mike Taylor scored the most goals for the team. The softball team did great. The most valuable player was Diana Roop. Their record was 7-3. In the field of baseball, Greg Fields was the MVP. The team played well for their first year. Boys and girls track didn't do too badly in their meets. The MVP's for boys track were Richard Roeske and Glyn Owen. Lisa Bergsma was the MVP for girls track. Overall, PSHS's first spring sports season went very well.

Cheerleaders Promote Pride & Spirit

The Cheerleaders worked hard this year, and made up many new routines. They cheered at most of the sports events and brought much spirit to the pep rallies and games. They won the "Spirit Stick" for the second year in a row.

Freshman Cheerleaders

Members: Yuri Lazar, Katie Homan, Caitlin O'Leary, Debbie Scrogum, Laurie Duncan, Marisa de los Santos, Allison Stewart, Denice Thorlton, Teri Carter, Tonni Austin, Sherri Burdette, Nancy Barber.

Being a Freshman cheerleader this year was a challenge well met by this squad. They showed everyone their enthusiasm with the many cheers they knew, as they cheered the Freshman teams on to victory.

The junior varsity team did an excellent job this year, ending the season with an 9-1 record. They won all their junior varsity games, and lost only to the George Mason Varsity team. Every member put forth a great deal of effort, and it showed. The great season this year was also due to the excellent coaching done by the offensive and defensive line coaches.

Potomac Volleyball

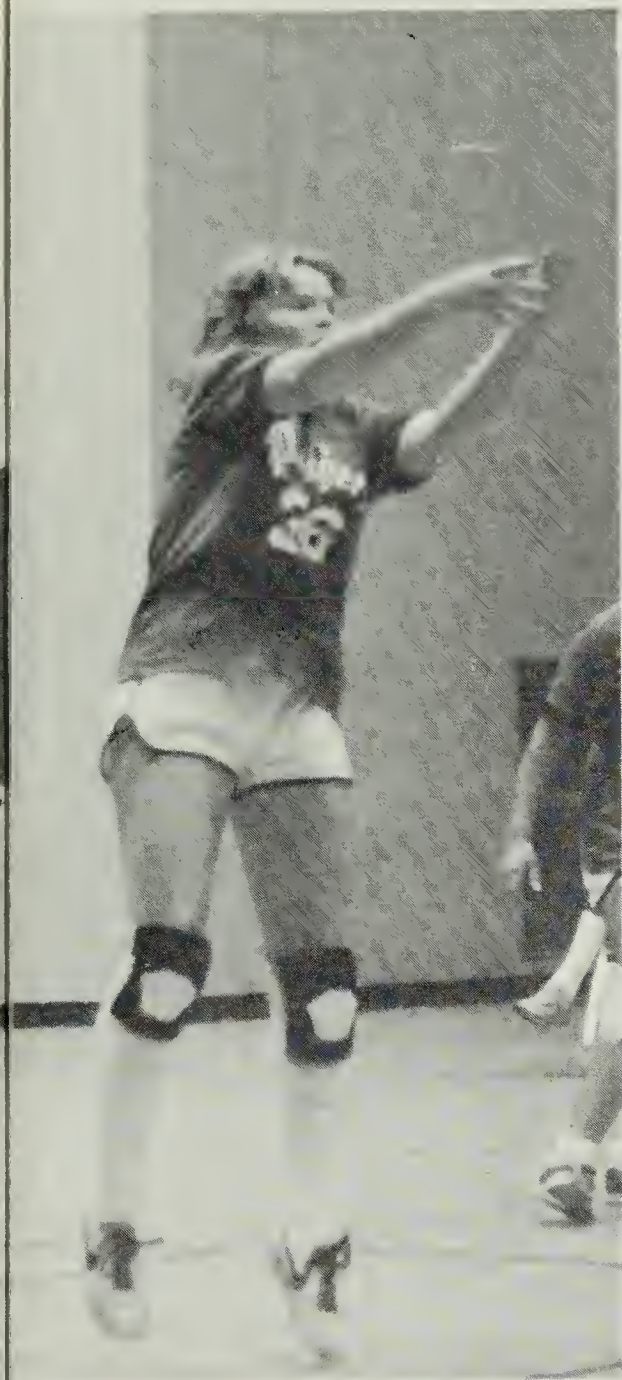

Just like the year before, the Volleyball team had an extremely successful year, beating many of their opponents. The team started practicing even before school began and didn't stop until the late fall. Many of the girls showed lots of vigor when they played the game. That was a mark of really good sportsmanship.

The JV team members were: Melissa Davis, Sandy Keys, Susan Cozart, Kelly Feltault, Ginny Reid, Diana Jones, Amey Richardson, Ashley Wiggins, Lisa Margheim, Shelly Seitz, and Dianna Roop. Mrs. Parker was their coach.

Cross Country

Having more members helped the cross country team this year. The team won a couple of meets this year, one against Quantico High School.

Several of the team members consistently did well, improving their individual and team times.

Tennis

Although experiencing some tough losses, the girls tennis team had fun. Kennan Gregory, the top seeded player for Potomac, did very well, winning most of her matches. All the other girls tried hard, some of them winning matches.

This was the first year of girls tennis at PSHS, and all the girls deserve a lot of recognition.

Boys Basketball

Shoot the basketball, make the basket, and score two points. It takes a lot more than that to win a basketball game.

It takes teamwork! The J.V. basketball team proved that. They won through lots of effort from everyone.

The Panthers won most of their games this season. Most of the time the fourth quarter was their best.

Potomac's Future

The Freshman Basketball Team, coached by Bob Levine, concentrating on fundamentals, finished this year with a 5-12 record. Offensive leaders for the team were Mandell Bray, Ronnie Lucas and Kevin Rose. Steve Colcombe and Ronnie Lucas were strong all year on the boards, both offensively and defensively. Ronnie Lucas received the Most Valuable Player Award. The Team survived only by total team effort. Without this total team effort the 1980-81 Freshman Boys Basketball season would not have been rewarding. These Freshmen make the future bright for Potomac basketball.

Freshman Girls Basketball

In their first year at Potomac, the Freshman Girls Basketball team did extremely well. They won their three games against Stafford 28 to 9, 25 to 19 and 27 to 13. One well-played game against Woodbridge ended Potomac 40 to 24, and another against Hammond ended Potomac 41 to 31. All members of the basketball team put in many long hours of practice to make the season a success. When asked, in the middle of the season, how the team was doing, Coach Brown replied, "The season is almost over and I think they are doing great. They have a record of 7 and 2 and have only 2 games left."

Team members were: Jennifer Bowser, Theresa Whiting, Stacey Tucker, Crystal Norman, Shawanda Johnson, Lori Rogers, Michelle Russey, Regina Martin, Ashley Wiggins, Caroline Atseff and Elaine Morris. Bill Brown was their coach.

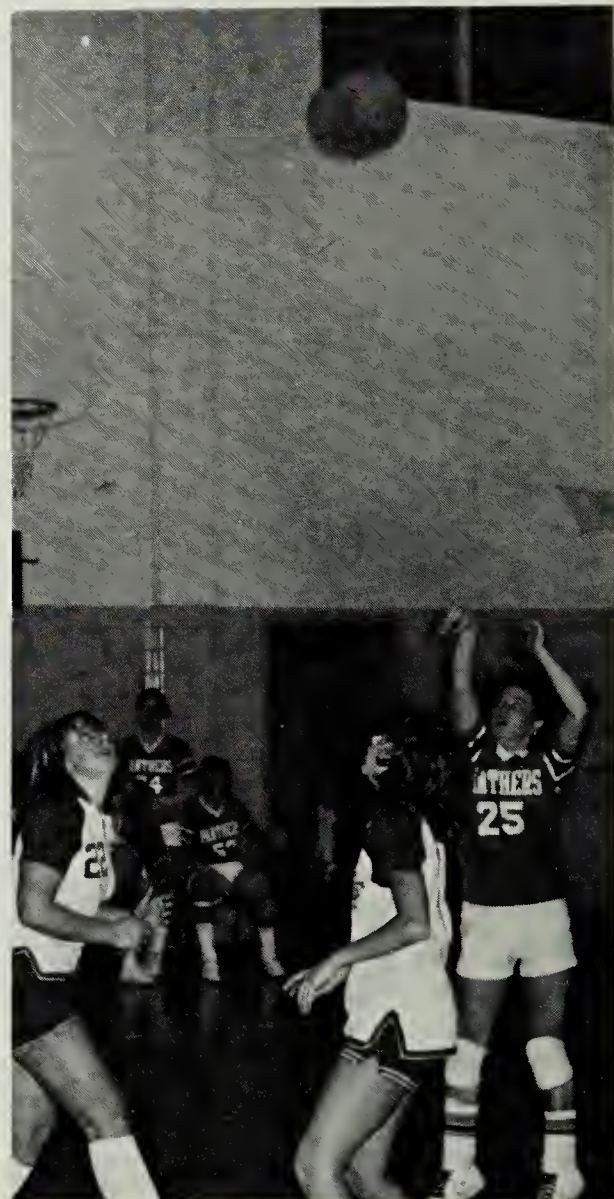

Girls Basketball

This year was a learning year for the JV Girls basketball team. They felt that by their senior year they would be able to become the Commonwealth champs.

The team hopes to compete well on the varsity level. With knowledge and experience that they gained this year, they felt confident that in the future they would be very successful.

When Coach Debbie Kriegler was asked what she thought of the team, she replied, "We used this year as a building year and spent much of the time with the fundamentals. I was pleased with our progress and expect the team to continue the good hard work as shown thus far."

Team members were: Jeanette Fick, Judy White, Lisa Margheim, Karen Minor, Janet Devaney, Carrie Fox, Donna Rew, Janet LaFleur, Sandy Keys, Tina Runion, and Dawn Davis.

Our Team

I would like to tell a story about a basketball team they're rough they're tough but far from mean! They work their hardest, they play their best for them, for you and all the rest. Their name is known through out the streets; Potomac Panthers, they can't be beat! This is 11 great players I'm talking about, which I would like you to meet so you'll have no doubt.

There's Killer Keys who's got the moves, the KangaRew who swishes for 2. We have Fighting White who steals the ball, and Sure Shot Fox who can burn them all. There's Mad Stork Margheim who will get the jump ball, and Hesitating Davis who's quicker than them all. We have Messem Up Minor who will stuff your shot, and Dunken Devaney who will put you to a stop. There's Lazer Beam LaFleur who puts it in to score, and Little Runt Runion who takes it down the floor.

Yes these are 11 great players who know their stuff; they put out all they got which is quite enough! But behind us all who we couldn't do with out is one great coach who we love with out a doubt! She put this team together and taught us all she knew, now she's with us all the way if we win or lose!

So come to our games and we'll give you all a show from the start to the finish, until that buzzer blows!!!

Gymnastics

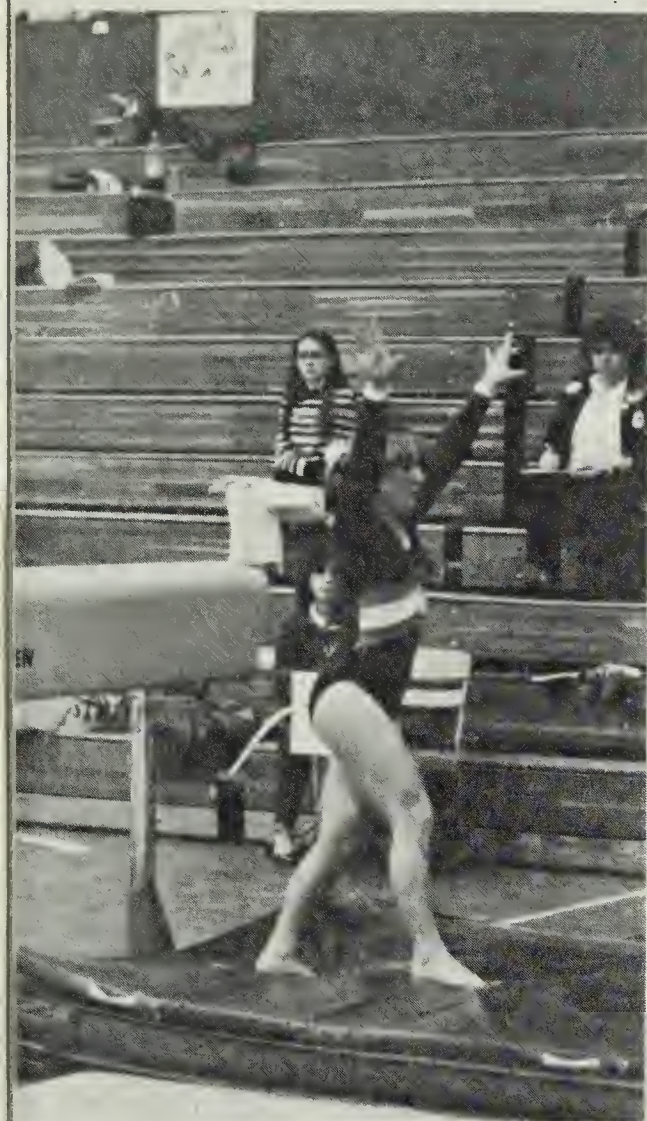

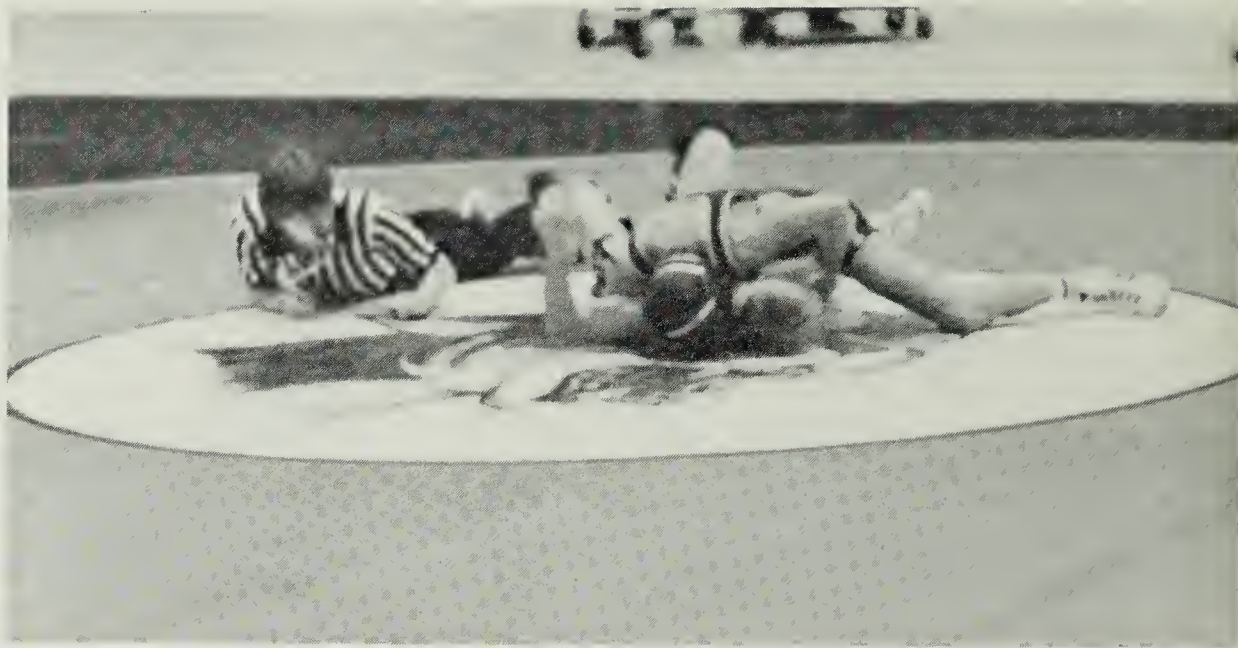

Julie Lamb, Jamie Young, Mrs. Morehead, Diana Jones, Cindy Babb, Beth Ritz, Denise Ylisela, Becky Coffenberry, Tammy Causey, Susie Rotundo.

The gymnastics season started on November 3rd with many injuries and disappointments. Considering all the problems we had, we did well.

In our first meet against Osbourn H.S. and Loudoun Valley, Jamie Young placed 1st in all-around. Against G-F and Woodbridge, Tammy Causey placed 1st in floor ex. At the Stafford Invitational we had only three people competing. Becky Coffenberry and Diana Jones were the two all-arounds. They did well. Susie Rotundo and Julie Lamb vaulted this year, and got good scores.

The wrestling team competed on a varsity level in the 1980-1981 season. It was one of great value to the Panther wrestlers. All experienced victory and defeat, but showed the courage and determination that our athletes have. The Panthers qualified 4 wrestlers for Regional competition: Al DeCarli, Tony Thomas, Tim Raley, and Matt Pallo. Of these, 3 qualified for State competition: Al DeCarli, Tony Thomas, and Matt Pallo. With just freshmen and sophomores, this accomplishment was remarkable.

Potomac Boy's Track Team had an interesting year, with more points earned than ever before and more records broken. Potomac sent two people to Regionals this year—Eric Heck and Richard Roeske—competing in the 100-meter dash, 100-meter high hurdles and high jump. Both put forth a good effort. The track team won their first Varsity meet this year against Manassas Park.

Team members are identified in the index.

The Girl's Track Team has great potential and desire to win. Going up against tough teams like Gar-Field and Stafford made their record suffer. The team has so far won once and come close to winning quite often. Runners like Lori Rodgers, Gloria Jones, Elaine Morris and Joy Early provided much excitement. Coach Callahan put tremendous effort in training the team.

Team members are identified in the index.

Potomac's Golf Team did an astonishing job this year, to say the least. Everyone expected a lot less than the team gave. The Golf team was undefeated until the last match of the season. The team placed 10th out of 40 teams at the Quantico Invitational. Pat Keeley was the top seeded player on the team, and lead the team to a tie for third place in the District.

Players are identified in the index.

Spring "81"

Boy's Tennis Team ended their first season gaining experience and making progress. They competed in the District tournament, but were eliminated in the 1st round. Coach Campbell remarked about the season, "For being young, we made tremendous progress. We're already looking forward to next season." With all players returning, we have the basis for an excellent team. Players are identified in the index.

Our Baseball Team was very successful up to this point. In one exciting game versus Manassas Park, Potomac went into extra innings, finally striking out a man with a full count. Potomac then destroyed Brentsville 26-9 with 8 runs in the 4th and 7 in the 5th. Outstanding players were Danny Raley, Bob LaFleur, John Oravec and Tim Raley with eight RBI's. Team members are identified in the index.

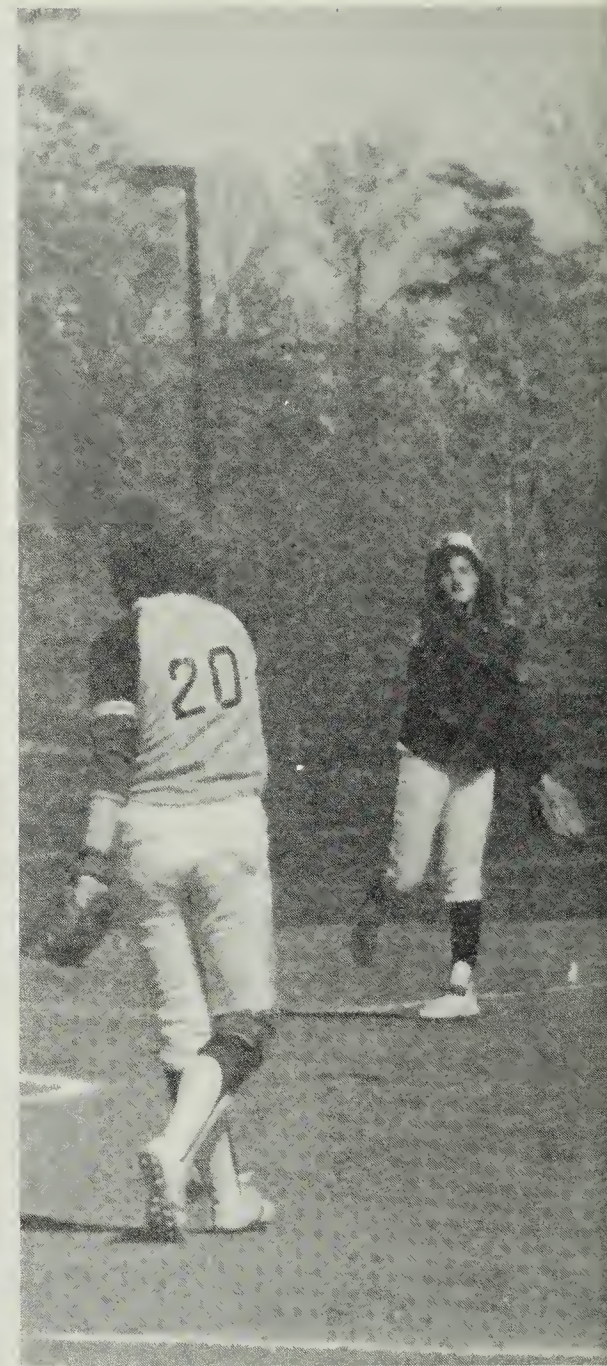

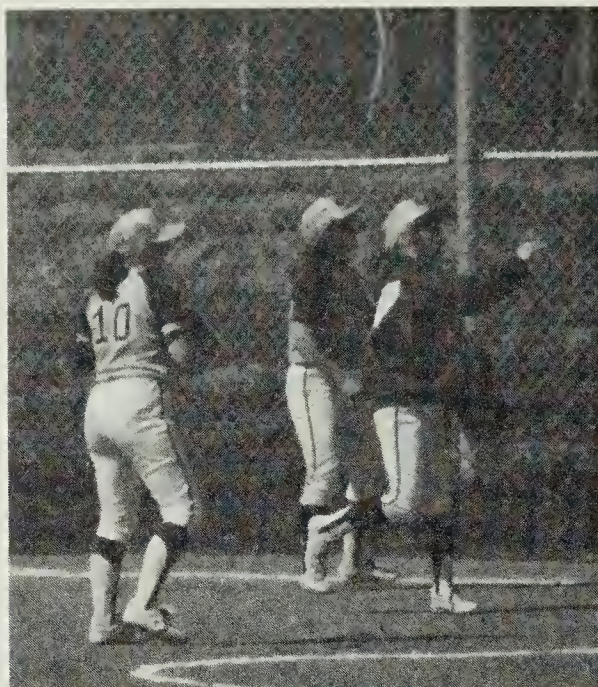

Boy's Soccer provided heart-stopping excitement even in game after game of bone-chilling cold. Under Coach Stoneburner's direction, the team worked hard to defeat more experienced players on other teams. Goalie Andy Buckon made as many as 13 shots on goal per game. Robbie Semper, Jim Carson, Junho Chi and George Hayward electrified the crowd with their skills. Players are identified in the index.

Potomac's Girl's Softball Team had an excellent season, in fact when this was written, they stood undefeated. The entire team did an excellent job, winning most of their games by an 8-10 run margin. In one of the most exciting games of the season, the 13-12 triumph over Gar-Field, they were behind 10-4 in the sixth inning. Then, the Indians' pitching dropped to pieces, Mel Davis, Renee Hatfield, Diana Roop, and Diana Jones each took bases, then Judy White smacked a two-run double evening the score. The Panthers only gave up 2 runs in the next inning and came back to win the game.

Team members are identified in the index.

After learning the basics of the game, the Girl's Soccer Team gained much experience playing other schools. For their first season, the girls had a respectable defense. Sandy Keys, the goalie, saved many shots on goal with her quick reflexes and timing. Players such as Kat Riddle, Carie Fox and Jamie Young generated our offense in several games. Although they remained winless through most of the season, they played hard and learned much to use for next year.

DECA

Distributive Education Club of America is a national organization which is for students interested in the field of marketing and retailing. The Potomac group has been working very hard this year. Not only have they been selling candy, but they also have been working on a state and national competition where they introduce displays and advertisements they have made. Overall the members in the group have gained new skills in business and retailing.

DECA members are identified in the index.

Drama Club

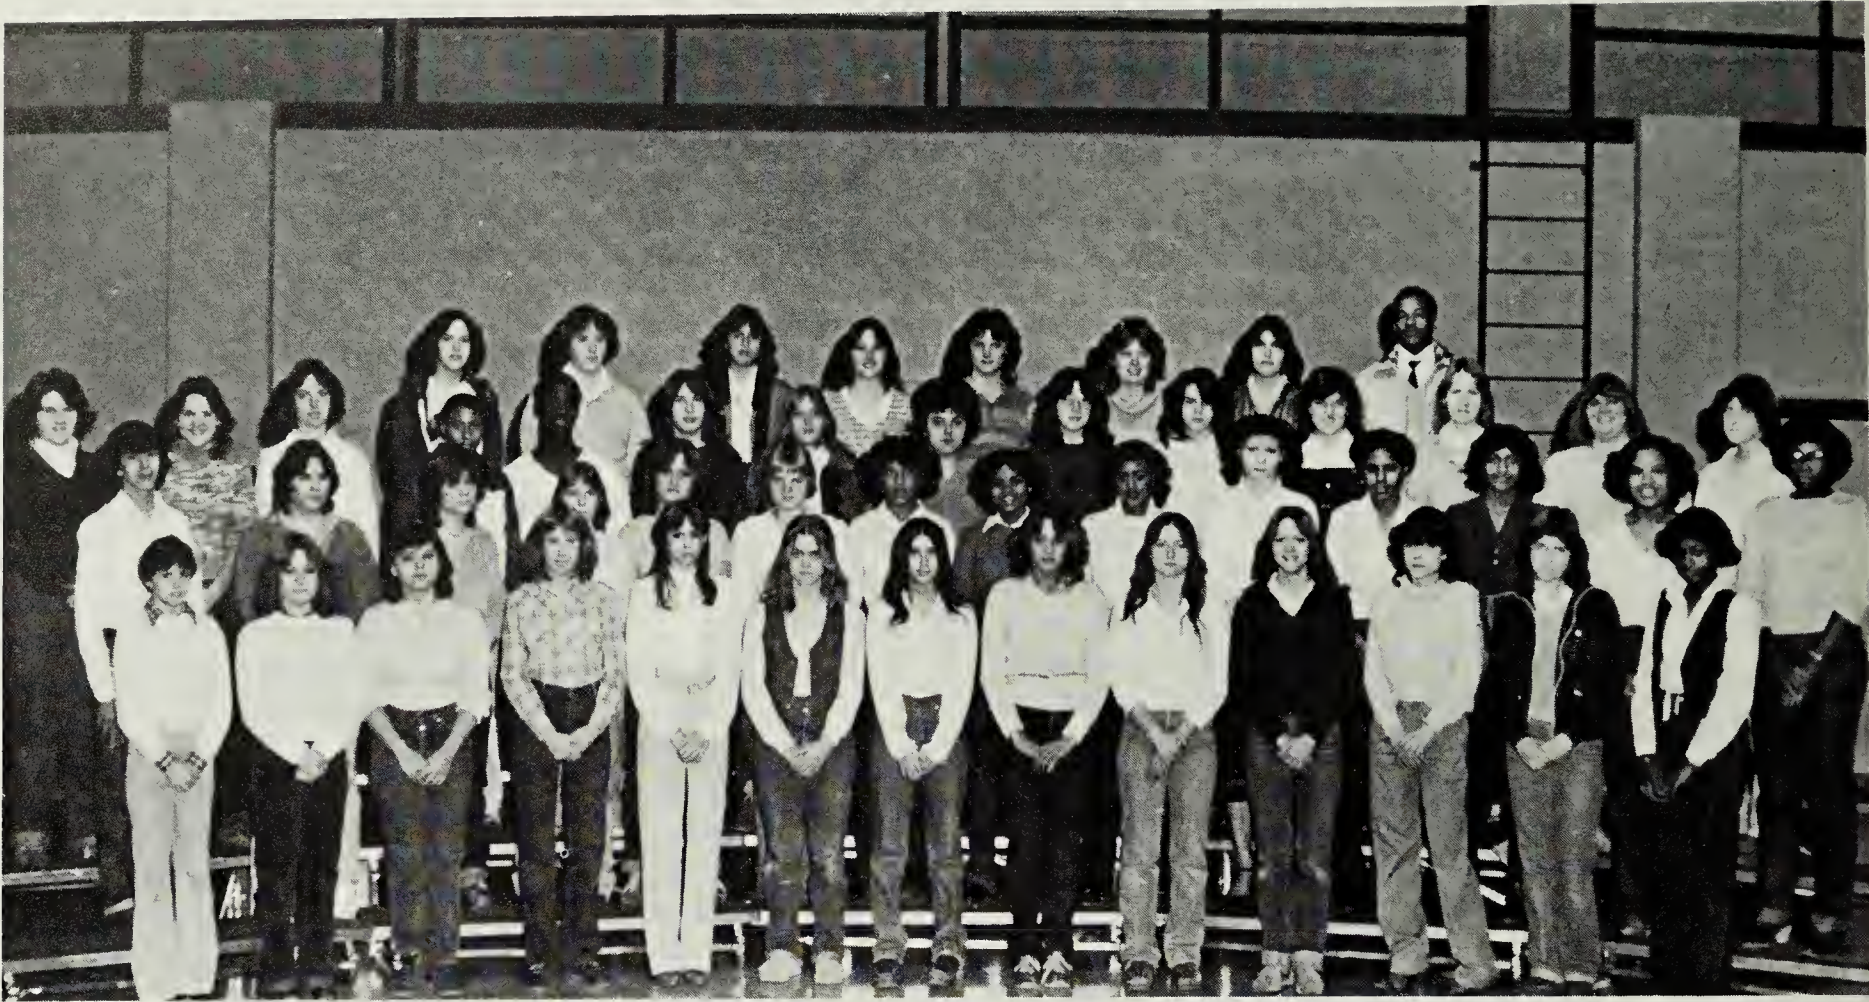

PSHS participated for the first time in the District one-act play festival, which we hosted on March 7. Our play was called "The Mask" which starred Steve Amidon, Kathy Burke, Kris Doyle, and Billy Williams. We received a participant rating, but since it was our first year in play competition, we did pretty good with the little experience we had.

The Sponsor of the Drama Club was Mr. Outman. The Club President was Magda Mohle, Vice President—Shelly Seitz, Secretary—Patty Walsh, Treasurer—Thao Martine, and Historian—April Homan.

The members of the Drama Club are identified in the index.

Pep Club

The Pep Club helps create school spirit at events such as football games, pep rallies, basketball games, and volleyball games. They held meetings, sent for matching sweaters for the club, and they held a dance. Their sponsor, Mr. Kite, did a great job with the club.

The President of the Pep Club was Belinda Maddox, Vice President—Tammy Causey, Secretary—Michelle White, Treasurer—Sally Dail, and SCA Representative—Eddie Marbaker.

The members of the Pep Club are identified in the index.

Junior Civitans

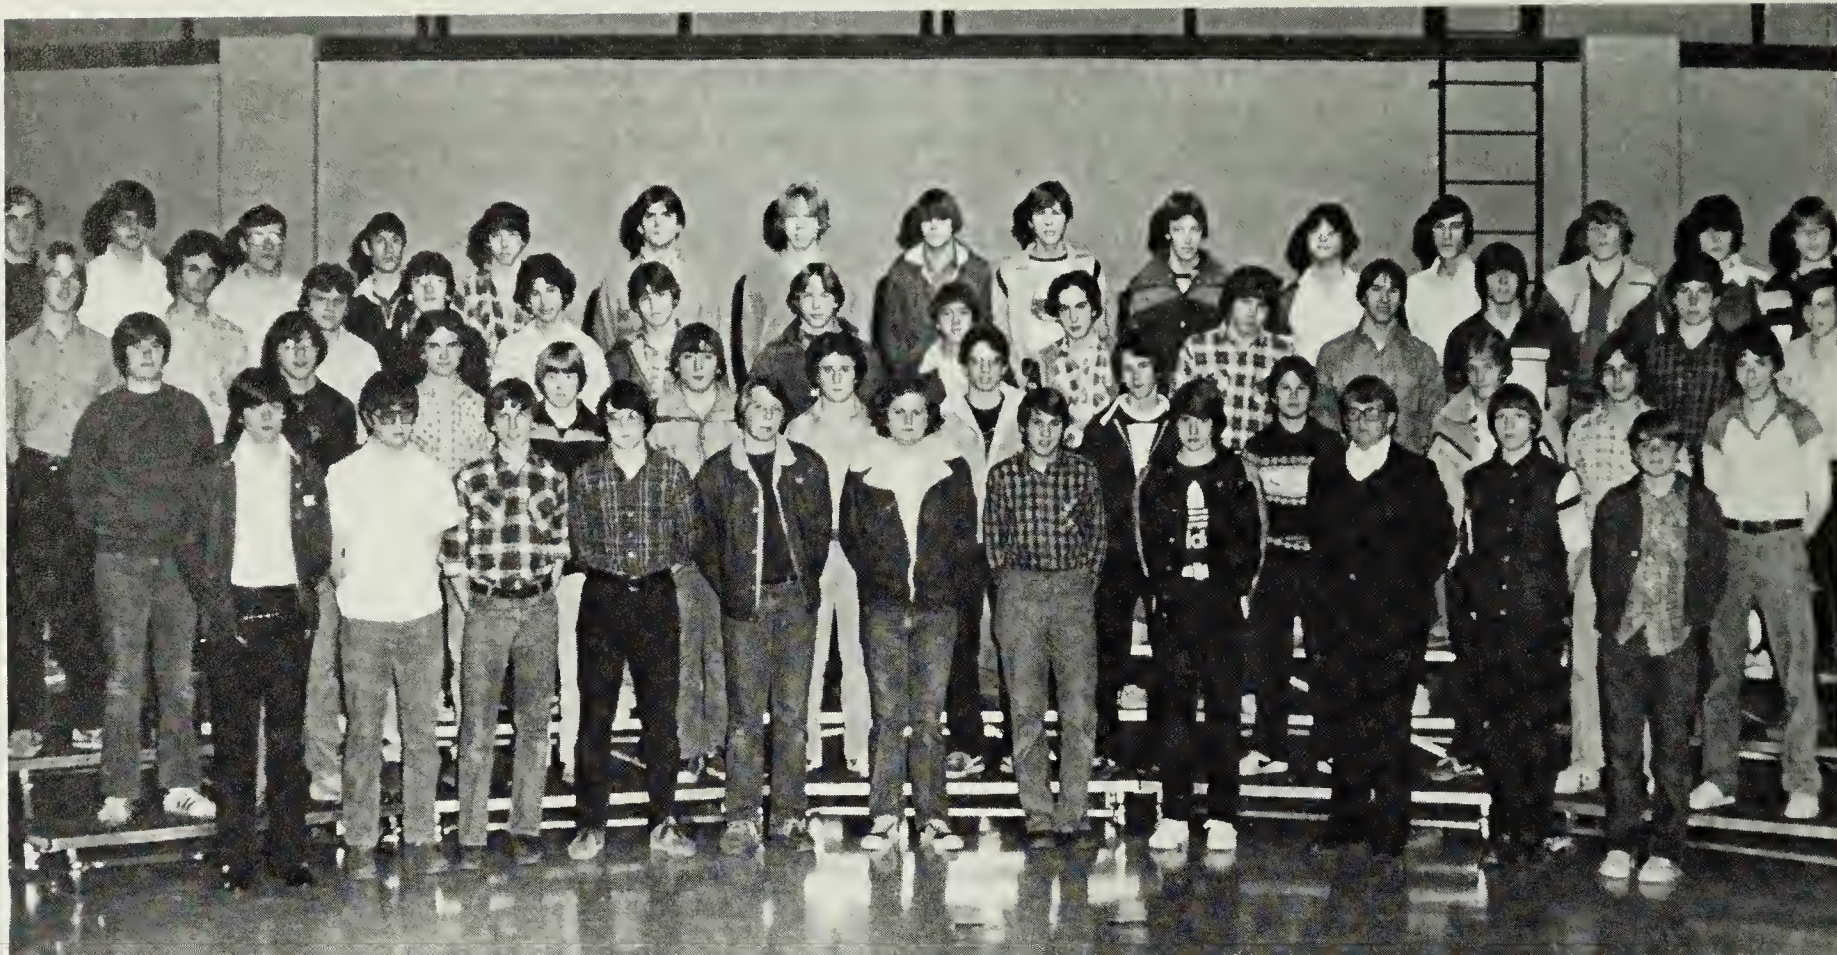

Junior Civitans held many activities this year. One of the most important things they did was to help at the Special Olympics. As always, they sold fruit cakes.

Many of the members went to the convention in Ocean City, Maryland. Everyone had fun, but at the same time worked very hard.

The Members of Jr. Civitans are identified in the index.

Officers: Sharon MacPherson, Sec.; Tami Hines, Chaplain; Sherri Turner, Treas; Holly Dunlap, Pres.; Toni Malanka, Sgt. at Arms; Debbie Ellis, VP.

Strategic Games Club

The Strategic Games Club was for students interested in games where decision making and tactics were important. Under the direction of Mr. Hardison, the club met to discuss and play various games.

Club members are identified in the index.

Key Club

A service to the community, a service to the school, this could only be one club, Potomac Key Club. As Potomac increased so did Key Club, now with a total of 50 members. Returning as officers this year were Jerry Ledlow, President; Sandy Keys, Vice-President; Lisa Schulken, Secretary/Treasurer and Clyde Turner, Sergeant-at-arms.

Projects this year ranged from selling fireworks, and delivering telephone books, to sponsoring a dinner for a needy family and helping in the move to the new school. However, the main event was the annual convention held this year in Ocean City. Sponsor Jim Qualls was very pleased with the turnout and the entire weekend.

Key Club members are identified in the index.

Future Homemakers of America

FHA, Future Homemakers of America, is an organization designed to teach the students the basic economical and practical aspects of domestic life. By becoming a member of FHA, one prepares herself for the future—living on her own outside of a family atmosphere.

The FHA Club President was Eva Paige.

The FHA Club President was Lisa Meade, Vice President—Jeanette Fick, Secretary—Eva Paige, Treasurer—Linda Scites, Historian—Ann Minor. Mrs. Fleming was their sponsor.

In the beginning of the year, the Photography Club had a bright and promising outlook. But unfortunately, due to unknown circumstances, the Photography Club did not really get off the ground. Hopefully, the Photography Club will have a better year and will have increased participation among members.

The members are identified in the index.

Photography Club

Computer Club

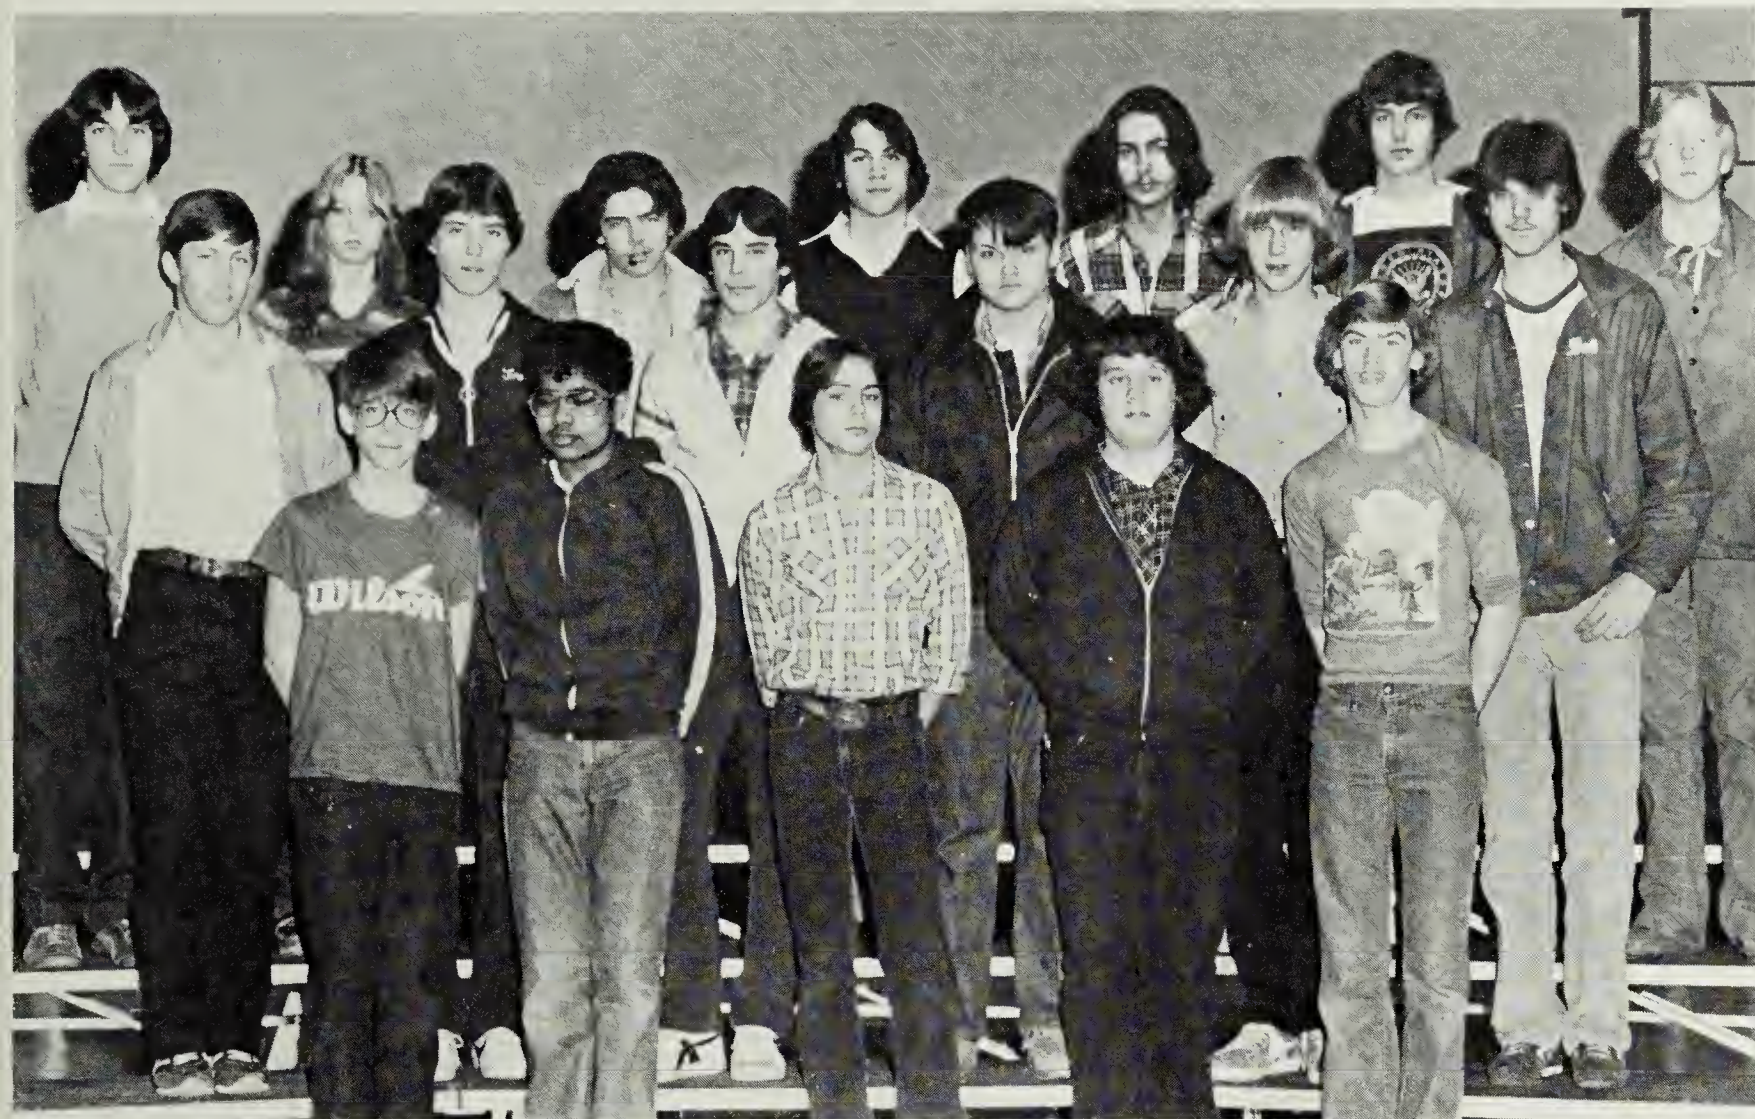

This past year was the first year for the Computer Club. Mrs. Szady, the Club sponsor, taught computer basics to the members. The President was Frank Shelton, Vice President—Phillip Walker, Secretary—Valerie Schley, and Treasurer—Heather Hinkamp. The Club worked with the computer, writing programs, playing games, and finding information on colleges and professions.

Chess Club

The Chess Club practiced diligently to further develop their skills and compete amongst themselves. The President was James Gibson, Vice President—Rodney Lohr, and their sponsor was Mr. Levine.

The members of the Chess Club are identified in the index.

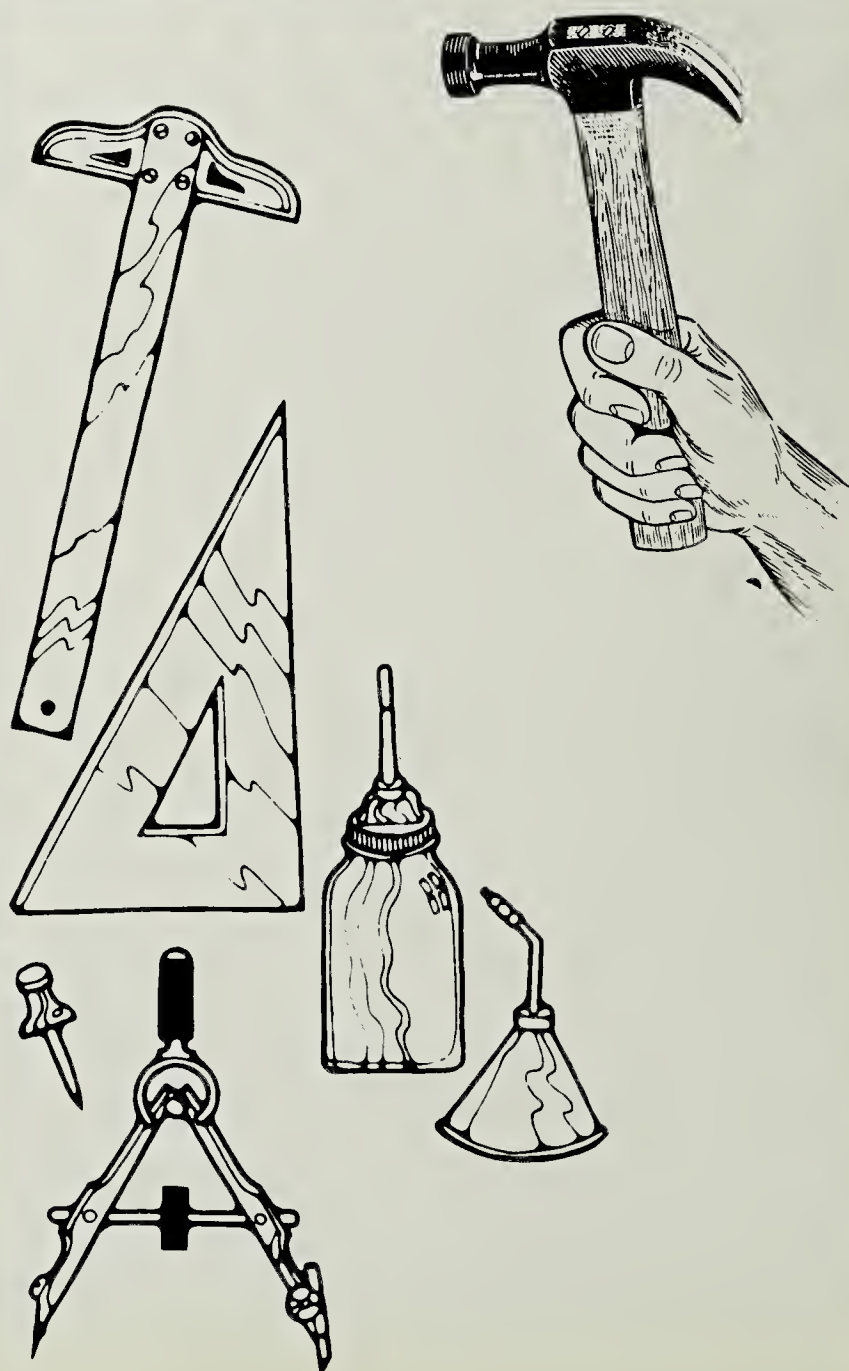

Industrial Arts Club

The Potomac Industrial Arts Club was open to any student who had taken Industrial Arts or was enrolled in Industrial Arts. The Club gave the student an opportunity to make any project, but the student paid for the materials.

There were fund raising projects and the money was used for a trip to the Industrial Arts Project Fair which was held in Norfolk, Virginia. At the fair the students displayed their projects and competed for trophies and certificates.

Club officers were: President—Greg Scites; Vice President—Jim Massie, Secretary—Jennifer Ryerse, Treasurer—Kevin Kasper, Reporter—George Schlegel, Sergeant-at-arms—Tommy Jackson, and Historian—Chris Washburn.

Members are identified in the index.

Foreign Language Club

The Foreign Language Club planned lots of fun activities last year. The Club is for anyone that is taking a foreign language.

This year the Club raised money to make a trip to "The Old Country" for a day. Money was raised by sponsoring a dance in November and a Foreign Language Fair in April. At the Fair they introduced food from France, Germany and Spain. They performed a play and gave a slide show about some foreign countries. Money was also used to buy awards for the best Foreign Language students. Overall, the Club had a great year. Foreign Language Club members are listed in the index.

Forensics and Creative Writing

The Potomac Debate and Forensic Club is open to interested students wishing to perpetuate the Art of Oration. The main function of the club is to participate in debating meets in the Northern Virginia area, to hold forensic meets within the school, and to compete with other schools.

The President was Patrick Thompson, Vice President—Leo Malloy, Coordinator—David Waldman, and Treasurer—Mark Ricks.

The Creative Writing Club is open to students who enjoy writing stories and want to increase their literary skills. The Club was working on a literary magazine that they hoped to have published in the future. The members were Wesley Smith, Mary Hunter, Regina Sommers and Kathy Lydon.

FBLA

FBLA, Future Business Leaders of America, was organized to make students aware of the business world and of careers in different varieties of business.

Club officers were: President—Tammy Cook; Vice President—Rodney Wilson; Secretary—Jeanie Waniel; Treasurer—Judy White; Historian—Gail Clemons; Parlimentarian—Renee Hatfield; Reporter—Lisa Bolling.

Club members are identified in the index.

The Potomac Messenger

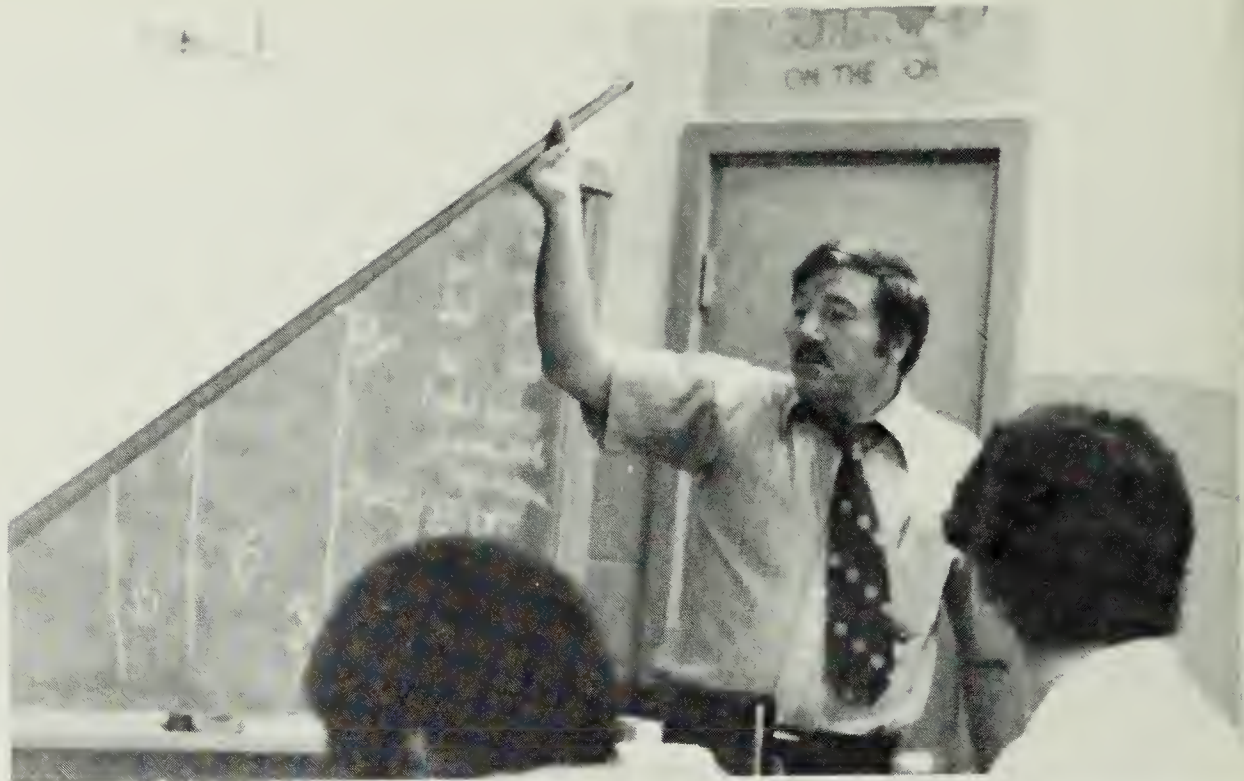

Potomac's first journalism class wrote the newspaper this past year. The class was very successful under the excellent instructions of its sponsor, Mr. Maguire. The in-depth reporters kept tabs on all student activities and worked diligently to produce newspapers that were both interesting and informative.

This year our faculty grew through the addition of new teachers and new classes. Originally, we started with a faculty of 30. This year the number increased to 60. This year we added new foreign language classes, German, taught by Mrs. Patrick and Latin, taught by Mrs. Caudell. We also added journalism to the English department.

What really made this year exciting was the move to the new building. It was hard for the faculty and staff though. Teachers were busy packing and unpacking, and arranging new rooms. It showed that they had a lot of determination during the days we moved into this school.

We were lucky to have such a fine staff, one that enjoys this school and that will continue to help us in our education.

"If you don't quit . . ."

Guidance secretary, Mrs. Stevens.

Mrs. Emmons grades her World Studies tests.

Support Staff

The support staff at PSHS is very important. They keep the building and grounds in top condition. A Clean school makes it easier for us, and everyone who may visit, easier to work in.

Another part of our support staff is the kitchen staff. They work at making a good, nutritious meal to make our day go better.

Custodians: Joseph Weaver, Janet Williams, Betty Bowles, Elizabeth Davis, Robert Hum, Patty Johnson, Debra Newhouse, and Alvin Howard. Building engineer: Paul Gregg.

"Don't trip over the puny freshmen," yelled the sophomores on the first day of school! Being a sophomore had many advantages, such as being the upperclassmen, but there were also disadvantages. Being a sophomore meant you couldn't pretend you didn't know the rules. Playing dumb just didn't work anymore!

We were just getting used to being freshmen when, all of a sudden, we were sophomores. How soon we forgot that we were once freshmen! When asked what the difference was between being a 9th grader and a 10th grader, some jokingly replied "height", while others thought we had more responsibility.

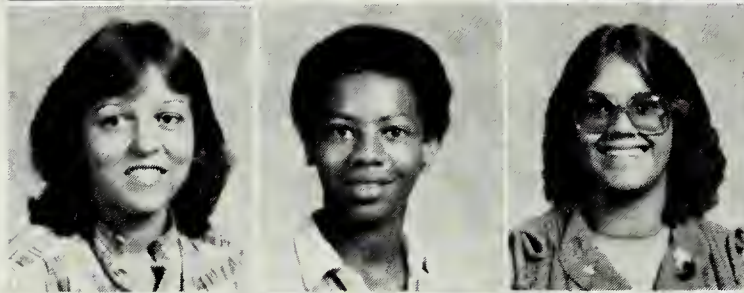

This year the sophomores elected class officers. The president was Buddy Biscardo, the vice-president was Tim Raley, and the secretary-treasurer was Sandy Keys.

Everyone looked forward to the move to the new building, especially the sophomores, who had been waiting for almost a year and a half. When the time finally came, everyone was confused. Fewer sophomores joked about the freshmen, since we were all lost.

The first week of school was confusing (not to mention boring) for the freshman class. Although no sophomores tried to sell us elevator keys, we had our problems. Aside from the occasional grumbling of a sophomore about the crowded halls, we got along fairly well.

Lipscomb, Garland
Lively, Faith

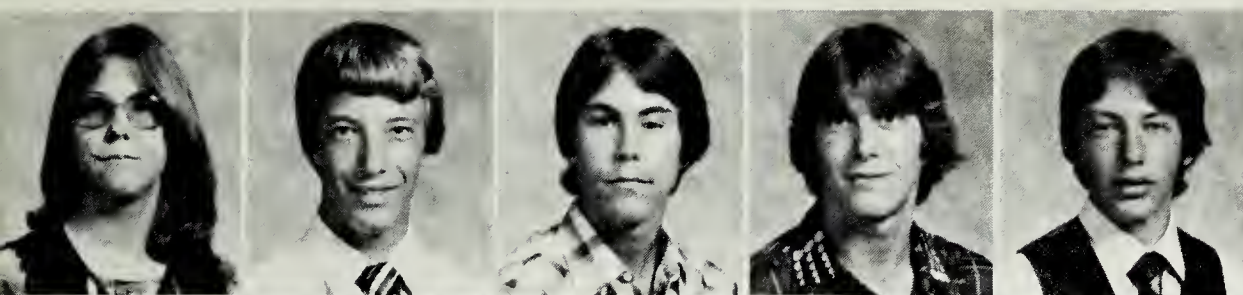

It was a little difficult changing from the "all important" 8th graders to the less important 9th graders, but we managed. It was also disappointing to see last years A's turn into this years B's and C's. This showed us that we had to work harder.

The idea of moving to the new building excited the students as well as the teachers. For most, it would be a new experience. This time, everyone, including the sophomores, would be lost.

Class Spirit!

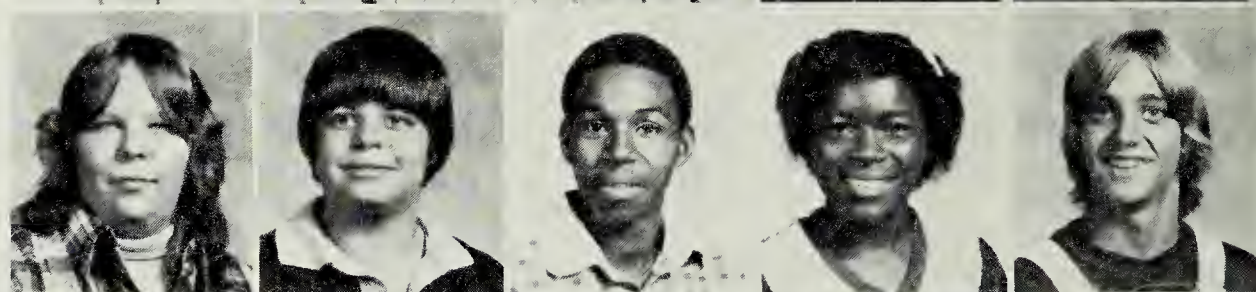

We could have used a little more enthusiasm at the pep rallies, but when it came to the football games, the freshman class was just as loud as everyone else. All of our teams had good seasons, which gave us something to cheer about.

This was a year we will all remember. Our first year in high school, being the second class at Potomac, and moving into a brand new building.

Potomac's first casualty, Rodney Newbraugh.

Potomac Senior High School's Freshman Class was quite busy this year. After the elections were held around Christmas, they got busy planning their agenda for the upcoming year. On their Monday meetings, they discussed future fundraising plays including a carwash, class plays, and bake sales. The big event was when they sponsored the First Annual Spring Theme Dance in May. This year's theme was "May Flowers" with formal or semi-formal dress and music provided by Sound Company. All fundraising activities were done in order to raise money for the First Junior-Senior Prom, which they will sponsor. With the continued hard work, and support from their sponsors, Mr. Cummins and Mr. Eaton, they hope to raise enough money to give the best Prom Potomac will ever have.

Freshman Class officers were: Teri Carter, President; Mandell Bray, Vice President; Christa Vernarelli, Secretary; Katie Homan, Treasurer.

The National Christmas tree was lit for 444 seconds in honor of our hostages in Iran. Fireworks paint the sky for the inauguration celebration.

Ronald Reagan takes the oath to become the 40th President of the United States. President Reagan dedicates an American flag to the hostages.

January 20, 1981

January 20, 1981 did not begin as any other day in the United States. It was a day of anticipation and excitement. The American people were to witness the inauguration of the President of the United States, Ronald Reagan. The excitement was because a new era was about to begin, the American people were being promised an economic relief by a man who had made this possible when Governor of the State of California. The anticipation was over the pending release of the American hostages in Iran. This release was overdue, since they were to have been freed during the previous day. As the day progressed a sense of tension began to be felt. The hour for Ronald Reagan to take the Oath of Office was nearing; the American hostages were waiting on the runway of an Iranian airfield for the flight out of Iran. Why were they being held so long? No one had the answer. As 12:00 noon approached, the tension increased as the hostages were still in Iran—12:00 noon and Ronald Reagan is about to be sworn in as President of the United States; the hostages have still not left Iran. And then the aftermath. Ronald Reagan becomes the fortieth President of the United States. The American hostages are released from Iran. There have been many explanations as to why events in Iran happened in the manner they did. But no one knows for sure. We do now, however, know that an important day in the life of Ronald Reagan and the American people took second place to the release of the hostages. We can only wonder as to how historians will handle this "twist of fate".

A joyous welcome for the hostages.

The Armed forces lined up for the inauguration.

Three very happy and relieved hostages.

Showing respect for the country.

The 1981 Prowler staff would like to thank those people who made this book possible. Also we would like to express to our readers our regret in the delay of the book's delivery. Several factors were involved, such as the move in the middle of 2 deadlines, the smallness of the staff, and the inconsistency of working time; all combined to delay this delivery. However, we produced the finest book possible with our abilities.

The following people spent much of their time and effort to produce this book: David Summa, editor, Denise Ylisela, Robert Hall, Jennifer Hayes, Kirsten Brown, Ben Robinette, Heather Hinkamp, Katie Freeman, Pat Johnson, Lila Thompson. Others involved were: Gail Chimento, Kathy Burke, Tim Hawley and Beth Ritz. Special thanks go to Mrs. Dunivin, our typist and Ritchie LaTulipe, without whom there would have been no photographs printed, also Mrs. Scoleri's typing students, who typed the index. Photo Credits:
